NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

At the recent election in North Dakota, 39,500 votes were polled. Hasbrough's majority for Congress is 15,000, and Miller's for Governor 12,600. Last fall the vote was 43,-225, and the Republican majority was 9,509.

ONE of Gov. Hill's economics related to the Oneonta Normal School. He opposed the bill for the maintenance of the teachers, but vetoed the one for chairs. The teachers will have to stand for a year, while the money sleeps in the treasury.

HARRY C. CROUCH of this city is the present Democratic United States Consul at Milan, Italy. The salary is $1,500 per year, and there are also some fat perquisites. Probably some Republican can be found who is willing and able to fill the position.

THE State Board of Health, having investigated the cause of the typhoid epidemic at the West Albany car shops, finds that the disease is due to filth caused by drinking the water from wells, and insufficient drainage. It may not be generally known that physicians agree also in calling diphtheria a filth disease.

STEEL rails are now sold quickly for $28.50 per ton, and agents are asking $29. Early in the year the price was $25. The boom in railroad building has caused the advance. The Union Pacific railroad took 40,000 tons last week. The iron industries of the country have not been so busy in five years as they are at present.

COUNTY JUDGE ARBUCKLE of Delaware county, after having considered his renomination by the Democrats for several days, has declined and stepped out of the canvass. Arbuckle is personally popular, and was expected to pull Maynard through for the Assembly. His action has disconcerted the party, and they have thrown the Judgeship away upon a man named Baumes of Sidney, who was never before heard of outside of his native town.

THE first two days of registration in Brooklyn gave 82,050 names. In 1887 the enrollment for the corresponding days was 82,190. In the twelve Democratic wards, or those that voted for Chapin two years ago, there is a loss of 1,055. In the fourteen Republican wards, or those that voted for Baird against Chapin, there is a gain of 844. The tainted state ticket is causing a good many Democrats to retire from politics in Brooklyn as well as New York.

"JONES OF BINGHAMTON" is our Governor pro tem. once more. Gov. Hill went to New Jersey yesterday to stump the state for his friend Leon Abbett, and made a speech in Newark last night. Hill and Abbett are both Whisky Democrats. But the sun always shines brightly over New York when Jones rules. He has been Governor several times on account of Hill's fondness for the outside of the state, and the weather has invariably been pleasant.

CONGRESSMAN RANDALL rode from Philadelphia to Washington yesterday in President Roberts' private car. He was accompanied by his wife and two daughters and his family physician. The journey wearied him greatly, but he walked with the assistance of his wife from the car to the carriage on arriving at Washington. Mr. Randall hopes to be able to be present at the opening of Congress, but it is apparent that disease is cutting short the career of the ablest and most respected statesman of the Democratic party.

MRS. RAY HAMILTON is now busily employed with needle and thread, making shirts and blouses and hemming sheets. She is also to be given training in washing and ironing. Her daily attire is a calico gown, that cost about 40 cents. If she is industrious and well behaved she will be set at liberty on the 26th of May, 1891. Her term of apprenticeship is long enough to make her a good needlewoman and laundress. As she will no longer have the benefit of a partnership with a rich and high-born gentleman, her present experience may prove very useful to her.

IT was on Ionia Island, in the Hudson river near Peekskill, that Breslin and McCarthy fought their prize fight yesterday. The fighting was brutally savage on Breslin's part, and McCarthy was "done up" in a single round. The proceedings were not interrupted by law officers, and the winner announced an intention to fight with Larkin. New York is the only state in the Union in which a prize fight can be publicly advertised and openly conducted without fear of the law. When Gov. Hill announced that he had refused to extradite Sullivan until Gov. Lowry had agreed to let him off with a small fine, the prize fighters at once recognized him as their "one true friend." "Free Whisky and Free Fights" is the platform of the New York Democracy this year.

THE Court of Appeals has decided in the case of Hon. Augustus Bockes, a Supreme Court Justice retired by age before the expiration of his term, that he is entitled to $1,200 in lieu of expenses as well as to his salary of $6,000 a year till the end of the term for which he was elected. Another case of considerable interest to Judges will probably arise next year, after the retirement of Judge Ingalls of this judical district, whose age disqualifies him for service after this year. The constitution provides that a Judge retired by age shall receive pay for the remnant of his term, provided that he has served ten years before his retirement. When Judge Ingalls was a candidate for re-election in 1885, the objection was raised that he would under the constitution be entitled to pay for ten years of idleness. The answer was that he must serve ten years of the term from which he was retired. Judge Ingalls has been on the Supreme bench since 1863, but has served only four years of his present term. If he demands pay for ten years of inaction and the question goes to the Court of Appeals, he will get the money. All the Judges are interested in a favorable decision. In 1890 Judge Learned of this district will retire under exactly similar conditions, with eight years of his last term still ahead.

RAILROAD CRASH IN OHIO.

People Killed and Injured And Rolling Stock Demolished.

GENERAL TELEGRAPH NEWS

BRITISH MAN-OF-WAR RUNS ON A ROCK

The Ship Anson in Harbor of Kiel with a Hole in Its Bottom.

By Cable to The Freeman

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Anson, one of the vessels forming the British Channel Squadron, now at Kiel, is aground in that harbor. It went ashore on a rock and has a hole in its bottom. The Anson is a double-screw, steel armor-plated barbette ship of 10,600 tons.

RAILROAD COLLISION IN OHIO.

Five Trainmen and 13 Miners Injured, Three of the Latter Fatally.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—A Martin's Ferry, Ohio, special says: A collision occurred two miles west of Bridgeport at 6:30 o'clock this morning between the miners' train of two passenger coaches, containing about 70 miners, en route to the Wheeling Creek Coal Works, and a freight train of 21 cars southbound. Both locomotives were demolished and also two passenger cars and eight freight cars. Five trainmen and 13 miners were injured, three of the latter fatally. The collision was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the freight conductor.

The list of killed and injured is:

KILLED—David Moore.

INJURED—Samuel Tracy, three ribs broken and injured internally, will die; Nathan Clay, bruised about the head and body, probably fatally; David Richardson, arm broken in two places and shoulder dislocated, will recover; John Johnson and Thomas Marden, legs crushed, very serious; William Stitt, leg and foot crushed, will recover.

Eight or 10 others were injured, but their wounds are not serious.

What a Young Woman has Done.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—A good-looking young woman from Australia arrived here last night in pursuit of a married man who had wedded her under the pretence that he was single. The fellow is now in jail. He proves to be a noted American criminal, Julius Mailhouse, alias Julius M. House. The Australian girl is Elizabeth Hackett, daughter of a carriage manufacturer in Melbourne. Not long after serving a term in Joliet Prison Mailhouse went to Australia as a drummer for a Chicago meat firm, leaving a handsome wife in this City. His meeting with Miss Hackett, a short but ardent courtship, marriage, a week's honeymoon, then a sudden business call to Sydney, preceded by the drummer borrowing $750 from his new father-in-law, tells the Australian end of the story. Mailhouse was next heard of in San Francisco in a letter telling Miss Hackett to expect him by the next steamer. She did not wait but took the first vessel for the United States, investigating en route his record, of which she had got an inkling. Mailhouse was at home with his first wife last night when arrested. He had no notice of what was coming until confronted by the woman whom he supposed to be in the antipodes. The ex-convict's nerve did not desert him, and he laughingly attempted to embrace his pursuer. She repelled him with an uplifted chair, and declared she would remain in Chicago and support herself till he was again landed in the penitentiary.

Western Railroads at Odds.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The Trans-Missouri Auxiliary Association had a stormy time at its meeting yesterday. The application of the Union Pacific that its business west of Denver be excluded from the jurisdiction of the Association for the reason that the Denver & Rio Grande's business west of Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo was not amenable to the provisions of the agreement, was under consideration. Mr. Mellen declared his company could not stand the competition of outside roads any longer and it was losing its Colorado business. No other line except the United States was subject to the provisions of the agreement so far as Colorado traffic was concerned, the Denver & Fort Worth having withdrawn from the Association because it could not stand the Rio Grande's competition. The Association, in its present shape, was simply a farce. Nearly as many roads were outside of the Association as were in it. The general opinion is that the days of the Trans-Missouri Association are numbered.

Negro Lynched for a Slight Offense.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Oct. 11.—William Moore, a Negro train-hand on the Savannah, Florida & Western Road, was taken from the train at Jessups by a posse of citizens yesterday and lynched. While passing that place Wednesday he had some words with a citizen, and as the train pulled out he threw a stone which struck a bystander. A posse waited for his arrival yesterday and made short work of him.

The Death Record.

Superintendent W. H. Baker, of the Syracuse Forging and Gun Works, at Batavia, N. Y., died at his home in that village yesterday of consumption, aged 53 years. He was the inventor of the new Baker gun.

Daniel W. Thompson, for many years a Justice-of-the-Peace at Red Bank, N. J., died on Wednesday afternoon of dropsy, after a lingering illness. He was 73 years old.

Havoc Wrought by Floods.

By Cable to The Freeman.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Disastrous floods prevail in the Department of the Jura. A number of bridges have been carried away. Lons Le Saulnier, the Capital of the Department, is inundated, and a number of villages are surrounded by water. The military is actively engaged in saving life and property.

A Fatal Explosion of Natural Gas.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PUEBLO, Cal., Oct. 11.—While workmen were sinking a well for natural gas near this City a vein was suddenly struck. The gas ignited from a lamp, causing a terrific explosion. One man was cremated and two others and one woman were burned badly. Their recovery is doubtful.

A 'Longshoreman Beaten and Robbed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 11.—William Hawks, a 'longshoreman, was beaten nearly to death and robbed of $85 in Washington-street this morning. Patrick Howard, also a 'longshoreman, and one of the robbers, was arrested. Another escaped.

GATHERED IN THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

One Deadlock Broken—Conventions Held in a Number of Localities.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—After the one hundred and fiftieth vote had been taken in the Eighth District Republican Judicial Convention here to-day, a recess was taken for half an hour, On reassembling Erie and Genesee Counties transferred their votes from Judge Barker, to the Hon. John S. Lambert, County Judge of Chautauqua County, who was thereupon nominated by acclamation for Justice of the Supreme Court.

UTICA, Oct. 11.—At noon to-day the Twenty-Third District Republican Senatorial Convention came to a conclusion to adjourn until next Tuesday evening, when it will meet again in this City and renew the battle that has waged since Monday noon. Five hundred and sixty-nine ballots have been taken without the break of a single vote. The general impression prevailing at the time of adjournment was that upon reassembling next Tuesday the Herkimer and Madison County delegates will have come to an understanding.

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 11.—The full official returns of the recent election in North Dakota show a total vote of 39 500. Hansbrough, Republican candidate for Congress, received a majority of 15,000; Miller, Republican for Governor, 12,000. The majority in favor of Prohibition is 1,100. Eighty per cent. of the total vote was in favor of the Constitution and 70 per cent. was the average Republican vote.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 11—The vote of Jefferson County was canvassed yesterday, the result being that the Democrats lose a State Senator. This leaves the upper house of the Legislature a tie, but the Democrats will have a majority of seven on joint ballot.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 11.—According to returns received from all the legislative districts in the State, the Republicans have elected 135 of the 169 members. The Democrats have 27 and seven are Independents with Republican proclivities. The Republican majority on joint ballot will be 125.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—The Senatorial Convention took two ballots this morning and adjourned to 2 P. M. The ballots stood Priest 12, Hunter 10, Sweet 5. Upon reassembling this afternoon the Convention, without taking a ballot, adjourned to next Tuesday at Auburn.

A Suicide in Jersey City.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—Yesterday afternoon a well dressed man about 35 years old walked into Taylor's Hotel and asked for a room. He was assigned to one of the best in the house and registered as "J. R. Howard; of Poughkeepsie, N. Y." He seemed to be in good spirits, and before going to his room had several drinks. This morning he was found dead in bed, having shot himself with a revolver. On a table was a letter written by Howard, saying he had determined to kill himself, that his right name was Robert H. Payne, and that his home was in St. Louis. Upon his person were a gold watch and $14.50.

A Potentate's Property Sequestered.

By Cable to The Freeman.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—Bishop Strossmayer's valuable church property in the bishopric of Diakovar, Hungary, has been sequestered, the Biship having diverted to his own use several million florins. It is suspected that this is a move in the complicated diplomatic relations between the Triple Alliance and the Russian Government, and will result in an appeal to arms. Bishop Strossmayer is the recognized leader of the 18,000,000 Slavs who constitute the integral portion of the population of Austro-Hungary, and this attempt to discipline him will probably result in an inurrection in Croatia and Esclavonia.

Washington Jottings.

The first delegate to the International Maritime Congress to report at Washington was Captain A. M. Bisbee, the delegate from China, an American who has been for many years connected with the Chinese Imperial Customs.

General D. H. Hastings arrived in Washington yesterday afternoon, and has been confined to his room ever since by a sudden attack of cramps.

The receipts from internal revenue yesterday were $415,281, and from customs $987,535.

Knights Templar Call on the President.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The White House was again thronged with visitors to-day, the majority being Knights Templar and their families. There were about 300 of the East Room during the forenoon. They expressed a great desire to pay their respects to the President before leaving for their homes, and the President hearing of it came down stairs and shook hands with all of them.

Took an Overdose of Morphine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Dr. D. W. Harrington, about 55 years of age, for many years a physician in good standing in this City, died at 11:28 to-day, evidently from an overdose of morphine taken some time during the night or early this morning. He leaves a wife and a son, the Rev. Frank P. Harrington, Chaplain of Deveaux College, at Suspension Bridge.

What Started a Canard.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—While hoisting timbers to the top of of a new factory to-day the apparatus broke and fell to the ground, carrying three men with it. One, David Forest, a carpenter, was injured internally perhaps fatally. The accident started a canard that a building had fallen burying several men.

An Outlaw Sentenced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

THERBROOKE, Quebec, Oct. 11.—Donald Morrison, the Megantic outlaw against whom was rendered a verdict of manslaughter for the killing of Constable Warren in 1888, was to-day sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary.

The Wise Words of a Count.

THE DEADLY ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRES.

A Horrible Spectacle in New-York City To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 11.—A telegraph lineman named John Feeks met with a horrible death at the corner of Centre and Chambers-street at 1 o'clock this afternoon from contact with an electric light wire. He was employed by the Western Union Company. He presented a horrible sight as he died on the net work of wires in mid-air, while the deadly fluid actually made his body sizzle and his blood pour out to the sidewalk and over the clothing of terrified spectators. The accident, occurring in the middle of the day in one of the busiest parts of the City, was witnessed by a large number of people. The man's body lay limp and motionless over the mass of wires attached to the cross-trees of the pole. The firemen brought out a ladder and one went up with a pair of shears to cut the wires.

Proposals for State Work Opened.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Oct. 11.—Proposals for the following pieces of work were opened and awarded by the Superintendent of Public Works to-day: For building a highway protection wall on the west side of the Genesee River at Rochester, awarded to William Fuller, of Rochester, at $4,283. The improvement of seven pieces of work on Champlain Canal at Stillwater and Schuylerville improving 325 feet south of Lock 12, improving 4,000 feet south of Lock 14, at Glens Falls feeder, improving three abatments south of Lock 16, for numerous improvements south of Lock No 7, were awarded as to pieces two and one, to John W. Whalen & Company, of Whitehall, at $25,246 and $17,640 respectively; pieces Nos. 4, 6, 7 and 8, to James E. Floyd & Company, of Sandy Hill, at $2,645, $2,139, $1,992 and $2,877 respectively, and piece No. 5 to James D. Sherrill at $7,684.

At Fleetwood Park This Afternoon.

At Fleetwood Park this afternoon there were over 7,000 people present to see the great trotting match between Belle Hamlin and Harry Wilkes for a purse of $5,000. Preliminary to this race there was a contest in the 2:25 class. The entries were Charley Gibson, Bessie H., C. C. K., John Ferguson, Wonder, Edith R., David Jones and Corona. C. C. K. won the first heat in 2:25¼, John Ferguson a close second.

When the race for the $5,000 purse was called Belle Hamlin was the favorite, selling at $65 to $50 for Harry Wilkes. It did not disappoint its backers in the first heat, for it went under the wire a winner in 2:16¾.

Belle Hamlin won the second heat in the race in 2:19¼.

The Appeal in the Kemmler Case.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Tracy C. Becker, who was the Referee appointed to take testimony as to whether the death by electricity would be cruel and inhuman or not, received telegrams from Hon. W. Burke Cochran, counsel for Kemmler, and Attorney-General Tabor this morning requesting him to make a motion requesting the Judges of the General Term to set a day of this term on which they would listen to the appeal from Judge Day's decision. Mr. Becker, in giving the reasons why the motion should be granted, stated he was informed that both parties desired a speedy hearing of the appeal.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Doings of Church Legislators In New-York To-Day.

THE CZAR NOW IN BERLIN.

His Reception in the German Capital This Morning.

ALASKA PIRATE SEALERS.

DOINGS OF THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Consent Given for Consecration of Bishops of Oregon and California.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct 11.—In the Protestant Episcopal General Convention to-day the Rev. Dr. Benedict, Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, submitted a report that the Committee deemed it inexpedient to make any change in the representation to the General Convention, or to make any change in the method of voting. The Committee asked to be discharged from further consideration of the subject. The report was signed by the members of the Committee, two were absent and two dissented. The House assented to the discharge of the Committee, but when their report was submitted objection to its present consideration was made and it was placed on the calendar. Dr. Benedict, from the same Committee, reported in favor of allowing Bishops to have the offices of the Church set forth in modern tongues, other than the English when the number of persons acquainted with the English tongue is considerable. Placed on the calendar. The Rev. Dr. Huntington offered a resolution providing for the addition of a short office of prayer to the book of Common Prayer. Placed on the calendar. S. Corning Judd offered a resolution for the establishment of Court of Appeals in the various Dioceses. The Rev. Dr. Egar, of Central New-York, and John H. Stolsenburgh, of Indiana, offered resolutions looking to the same object. They were all placed on the calendar. A message from the House of Bishops was received consenting to the consecration of the Rev. Drs. Morris and Spalding as Bishops of Oregon and Colorado respectively.

The House took up the report on the Hymnal. The report was in favor of several charges in the present Hymnal comprising omissions, substitutions and additions. The Rev. Dr. Nelson presented the report and spoke in favor of its adoption. Hill Burgwin moved that the matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole to avoid a long discussion. The motion was carried and the House went into Committee. It was decided that the hymns should be called by numbers, one by one, and that each hymn to which no objection is made shall be considered approved. The Rev. Dr. Harwood, of Connecticut, moved that Hymn No. 5,330 in the present hymnal be substituted for Hymn 5 in the proposed Hymnal. Carried.

CZAR'S RECEPTION IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Emperor William Embraced Him Repeatedly and Bismarck Took His Hand.

By Cable to The Freeman.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Czar has arrived here. He was accompanied by the Grand Duke Geo, his second son. Emperor William, several of the Royal Princes, Prince Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck and a number of Generals and Court officials received the Czar and Grand Duke at the Lehrter station. The Czar was attired in the uniform of the German Alexander Regiment, of which he is Honorary Colonel. He and Emperor William embraced repeatedly. After their greeting was over the Czar turned to Prince Bismarck and shook hands with him. He also held a brief conversation with the Chancellor. The members of the Czar's suite were then presented to the suite of Emperor William, after which the guard of honor defiled before the Czar, the band playing the Russian National Hymn. The party then proceeded to the State carriages, which were in waiting, and drove through the Brandenburg Gate, across the Koenigsplatz, and to the Russian Embassy, the horses going on a fast trot for the entire distance. As the imperial carriages passed the Brandenberg Gate a park of artillery began firing a salute of 101 guns. The streets along the route were plentifully decorated with flags and bunting, but the crowd which had gathered did not cheer as the Czar passed along. Emperor William wore the uniform of the Russian Wyborgan Regiment and had on his breast the decoration of the Russian Order of Standrem. Prince Bismarck also wore his Russian orders. The Admirals attached to the British Channel Squadron, which is now at Kiel, were at the station when the Czar arrived, and were saluted by him. Emperor William took his departure from the Russian Embassy after remaining there for but a few minutes. Prince Bismarck remained and held a conversation with the Czar, lasting 20 minutes longer. The Czar took luncheon with the German officers forming his special suite.

WORK OF PIRATICAL ALASKA SEALERS.

What President Sloss, of the Commercial Company, Says.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Louis Sloss, President of the Alaska Commercial Company, said yesterday their lease expires May 1, but if the present state of affairs continues the Company would not renew it. The number of piratical vessels in Behring Sea is greater than formerly. The Government cutter has done what it could, but it is entirely powerless to watch the whole region. There have been probably 30,000 skins stolen by private sealing vessels and fully 50,-000 or 60,000 seals killed. The Alaska Commercial Company has taken about 100,000 skins this year, a smaller number than usual. Not only are the seals becoming less, but they are smaller than formerly. If the revenue cutter should bring any captured seals to Ounalaska it is a feregone conclusion that a riot would occur there. Much damage would result by fire and destruction of property. Such an occurence is probable at any time, and the possibility of its spreading is a standing menace to the peace of Alaskan ports, owing to the criminal and brutal character of the outlawed sealers. Regarding other industries in the northern territory, Mr. Sloss said it was thought that the Alaskan salmon supply was inexhaustible, but the experience of this year teaches differently. The canneries have reduced the amount of salmon materially. One establishment that last season put up 100,000 cases was only able this year, with more men and increased exertions, to secure 56,000 cases. He believed Alaska must depend for its future prospects upon its mineral wealth.

A Decision About Pork.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—In the case of William Wallace vs Board of Trade, on appeal from the decision of Judge Shepard, who refused to make permanent the injunction restraining the Board of Trade from delivering to the plaintiff large quantities of green October pork, the Appellate Court to-day upheld the decision of the lower court. An appeal will be taken.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

At the recent election in North Dakota, 39,500 votes were polled. Hasbrough's majority for Congress is 15,000, and Miller's for Governor 12,600. Last fall the vote was 43,225, and the Republican majority was 9,509.

One of Gov. Hill's economics related to the Oneonta Normal School. He opposed the bill for the maintenance of the teachers, but vetoed the one for chairs. The teachers will have to stand for a year, while the money sleeps in the treasury.

Harry C. Crouch of this city is the present Democratic United States Consul at Milan, Italy. The salary is $1,500 per year, and there are also some fat perquisites. Probably some Republican can be found who is willing and able to fill the position.

The State Board of Health, having investigated the cause of the typhoid epidemic at the West Albany car shops, finds that the disease is due to filth caused by drinking the water from wells, and insufficient drainage. It may not be generally known that physicians agree also in calling diphtheria a filth disease.

Steel rails are now sold quickly for $28.50 per ton, and agents are asking $29. Early in the year the price was $25. The boom in railroad building has caused the advance. The Union Pacific railroad took 40,000 tons last week. The iron industries of the country have not been so busy in five years as they are at present.

County Judge Arbuckle of Delaware county, after having considered his renomination by the Democrats for several days, has declined and stepped out of the canvass. Arbuckle is personally popular, and was expected to pull Maynard through for the Assembly. His action has disconcerted the party, and they have thrown the Judgeship away upon a man named Baumes of Sidney, who was never before heard of outside of his native town.

The first two days of registration in Brooklyn gave 82,050 names. In 1887 the enrollment for the corresponding days was 82,190. In the twelve Democratic wards, or those that voted for Chapin two years ago, there is a loss of 1,055. In the fourteen Republican wards, or those that voted for Baird against Chapin, there is a gain of 844. The tainted state ticket is causing a good many Democrats to retire from politics in Brooklyn as well as New York.

"Jones of Binghamton" is our Governor pro tem. once more. Gov. Hill went to New Jersey yesterday to stump the state for his friend Leon Abbett, and made a speech in Newark last night. Hill and Abbett are both Whisky Democrats. But the sun always shines brightly over New York when Jones rules. He has been Governor several times on account of Hill's fondness for the outside of the state, and the weather has invariably been pleasant.

Congressman Randall rode from Philadelphia to Washington yesterday in President Roberts' private car. He was accompanied by his wife and two daughters and his family physician. The journey wearied him greatly, but he walked with the assistance of his wife from the car to the carriage on arriving at Washington. Mr. Randall hopes to be able to be present at the opening of Congress, but it is apparent that disease is cutting short the career of the ablest and most respected statesman of the Democratic party.

Mrs. Ray Hamilton is now busily employed with needle and thread, making shirts and blouses and hemming sheets. She is also to be given training in washing and ironing. Her daily attire is a calico gown, that cost about 40 cents. If she is industrious and well behaved she will be set at liberty on the 26th of May, 1891. Her term of apprenticeship is long enough to make her a good needlewoman and laundress. As she will no longer have the benefit of a partnership with a rich and high-born gentleman, her present experience may prove very useful to her.

It was on Iona Island, in the Hudson river near Peekskill, that Breslin and McCarthy fought their prize fight yesterday. The fighting was brutally savage on Breslin's part, and McCarthy was "done up" in a single round. The proceedings were not interrupted by law officers, and the winner announced an intention to fight with Larkin. New York is the only state in the Union in which a prize fight can be publicly advertised and openly conducted without fear of the law. When Gov. Hill announced that he had refused to extradite Sullivan until Gov. Lowry had agreed to let him off with a small fine, the prize fighters at once recognized him as their "one true friend." "Free Whisky and Free Fights" is the platform of the New York Democracy this year.

The Court of Appeals has decided in the case of Hon. Augustus Bockes, a Supreme Court Justice retired by age before the expiration of his term, that he is entitled to $1,209 in lieu of expenses as well as to his salary of $6,000 a year till the end of the term for which he was elected. Another case of considerable interest to Judges will probably arise next year, after the retirement of Judge Ingalls of this judical district, whose age disqualifies him for service after this year. The constitution provides that a Judge retired by age shall receive pay for the remnant of his term, provided that he has served ten years before his retirement. When Judge Ingalls was a candidate for re-election in 1885, the objection was raised that he would under the constitution be entitled to pay for ten years of idleness. The answer was that he must serve ten years of the term from which he was retired. Judge Ingalls has been on the Supreme bench since 1863, but has served only four years of his present term. If he demands pay for ten years of inaction and the question goes to the Court of Appeals, he will get the money. All the Judges are interested in a favorable decision. In 1890 Judge Learned of this district will retire under exactly similar conditions, with eight years of his last term still ahead.

A BRITISH SHIP AGROUND.

RAILROAD CRASH IN OHIO.

People Killed and Injured And Rolling Stock Demolished.

BRITISH MAN-OF-WAR RUNS ON A ROCK

The Ship Anson in Harbor of Kiel with a Hole in Its Bottom.

By Cable to The Freeman

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The Anson, one of the vessels forming the British Channel Squadron, now at Kiel, is aground in that harbor. It went ashore on a rock and has a hole in its bottom. The Anson is a double-screw, steel armor-plated barbette ship of 10,600 tons.

RAILROAD COLLISION IN OHIO.

Five Trainmen and 13 Miners Injured, Three of the Latter Fatally.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 11.—A Martin's Ferry, Ohio, special says: A collision occurred two miles west of Bridgeport at 6:30 o'clock this morning between the miners' train of two passenger coaches, containing about 70 miners, en route to the Wheeling Creek Coal Works, and a freight train of 21 cars southbound. Both locomotives were demolished and also two passenger cars and eight freight cars. Five trainmen and 13 miners were injured, three of the latter fatally. The collision was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the freight conductor.

The list of killed and injured is:

Killed—David Moore.

Injured—Samuel Tracy, three ribs broken and injured internally, will die; Nathan Clay, bruised about the head and body, probably fatally; David Richardson, arm broken in two places and shoulder dislocated, will recover; John Johnson and Thomas Marden, legs crushed, very serious; William Stitt, leg and foot crushed, will recover.

Eight or 10 others were injured, but their wounds are not serious.

What a Young Woman has Done.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—A good-looking young woman from Australia arrived here last night in pursuit of a married man who had wedded her under the pretence that he was single. The fellow is now in jail. He proves to be a noted American criminal, Julius Mailhouse, alias Julius M. House. The Australian girl is Elizabeth Hackett, daughter of a carriage manufacturer in Melbourne. Not long after serving a term in Joliet Prison Mailhouse went to Australia as a drummer for a Chicago meat firm, leaving a handsome wife in this City. His meeting with Miss Hackett, a short but ardent courtship, marriage, a week's honeymoon, then a sudden business call to Sydney, preceded by the drummer borrowing $750 from his new father-in-law, tells the Australian end of the story. Mailhouse was next heard of in San Francisco in a letter telling Miss Hackett to expect him by the next steamer. She did not wait but took the first vessel for the United States, investigating en route his record, of which she had got an inkling. Mailhouse was at home with his first wife last night when arrested. He had no notice of what was coming until confronted by the woman whom he supposed to be in the antipodes. The ex-convict's nerve did not desert him, and he laughingly attempted to embrace his pursuer. She repelled him with an uplifted chair, and declared she would remain in Chicago and support herself till he was again landed in the penitentiary.

Western Railroads at Odds.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The Trans-Missouri Auxiliary Association had a stormy time at its meeting yesterday. The application of the Union Pacific that its business west of Denver be excluded from the jurisdiction of the Association for the reason that the Denver & Rio Grande's business west of Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo was not amenable to the provisions of the agreement, was under consideration. Mr. Mellen declared his company could not stand the competition of outside roads any longer and it was losing its Colorado business. No other line except the United States was subject to the provisions of the agreement so far as Colorado traffic was concerned, the Denver & Fort Worth having withdrawn from the Association because it could not stand the Rio Grande's competition. The Association, in its present shape, was simply a farce. Nearly as many roads were outside of the Association as were in it. The general opinion is that the days of the Trans-Missouri Association are numbered.

Negro Lynched for a Slight Offense.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Waycross, Ga., Oct. 11.—William Moore, a Negro train-hand on the Savannah, Florida & Western Road, was taken from the train at Jessups by a posse of citizens yesterday and lynched. While passing that place Wednesday he had some words with a citizen, and as the train pulled out he threw a stone which struck a bystander. A posse waited for his arrival yesterday and made short work of him.

The Death Record.

Superintendent W. H. Baker, of the Syracuse Forging and Gun Works, at Batavia, N. Y., died at his home in that village yesterday of consumption, aged 53 years. He was the inventor of the new Baker gun.

Daniel W. Thompson, for many years a Justice-of-the-Peace at Red Bank, N. J., died on Wednesday afternoon of dropsy, after a lingering illness. He was 73 years old.

Havoc Wrought by Floods.

By Cable to The Freeman.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Disastrous floods prevail in the Department of the Jura. A number of bridges have been carried away. Lons Le Saulnier, the Capital of the Department, is inundated, and a number of villages are surrounded by water. The military is actively engaged in saving life and property.

A Fatal Explosion of Natural Gas.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pueblo, Cal., Oct. 11.—While workmen were sinking a well for natural gas near this City a vein was suddenly struck. The gas ignited from a lamp, causing a terrific explosion. One man was cremated and two others and one woman were burned badly. Their recovery is doubtful.

A 'Longshoreman Beaten and Robbed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New-York, Oct. 11.—William Hawks, a 'longshoreman, was beaten nearly to death and robbed of $85 in Washington-street this morning. Patrick Howard, also a 'longshoreman, and one of the robbers, was arrested. Another escaped.

GATHERED IN THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

One Deadlock Broken—Conventions Held in a Number of Localities.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 11.—After the one hundred and fiftieth vote had been taken in the Eighth District Republican Judicial Convention here to-day, a recess was taken for half an hour. On reassembling Erie and Genesee Counties transferred their votes from Judge Barker, to the Hon. John S. Lambert, County Judge of Chautauqua County, who was thereupon nominated by acclamation for Justice of the Supreme Court.

Utica, Oct. 11.—At noon to-day the Twenty-Third District Republican Senatorial Convention came to a conclusion to adjourn until next Tuesday evening, when it will meet again in this City and renew the battle that has waged since Monday noon. Five hundred and sixty-nine ballots have been taken without the break of a single vote. The general impression prevailing at the time of adjournment was that upon reassembling next Tuesday the Herkimer and Madison County delegates will have come to an understanding.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 11.—The full official returns of the recent election in North Dakota show a total vote of 39 500. Hansbrough, Republican candidate for Congress, received a majority of 15,000; Miller, Republican for Governor, 12,000. The majority in favor of Prohibition is 1,100. Eighty per cent. of the total vote was in favor of the Constitution and 70 per cent. was the average Republican vote.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 11—The vote of Jefferson County was canvassed yesterday, the result being that the Democrats lose a State Senator. This leaves the upper house of the Legislature a tie, but the Democrats will have a majority of seven on joint ballot.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 11.—According to returns received from all the legislative districts in the State, the Republicans have elected 135 of the 169 members. The Democrats have 27 and seven are Independents with Republican proclivities. The Republican majority on joint ballot will be 125.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 11.—The Senatorial Convention took two ballots this morning and adjourned to 2 P. M. The ballots stood Priest 12, Hunter 10, Sweet 5. Upon reassembling this afternoon the Convention, without taking a ballot, adjourned to next Tuesday at Auburn.

A Suicide in Jersey City.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 11.—Yesterday afternoon a well dressed man about 35 years old walked into Taylor's Hotel and asked for a room. He was assigned to one of the best in the house and registered as "J. R. Howard; of Poughkeepsie, N. Y." He seemed to be in good spirits, and before going to his room had several drinks. This morning he was found dead in bed, having shot himself with a revolver. On a table was a letter written by Howard, saying he had determined to kill himself, that his right name was Robert H. Payne, and that his home was in St. Louis. Upon his person were a gold watch and $14.50.

A Potentate's Property Sequestered.

By Cable to The Freeman.

Vienna, Oct. 11.—Bishop Strossmayer's valuable church property in the bishopric of Diakovar, Hungary, has been sequestered, the Bishop having diverted to his own use several million florins. It is suspected that this is a move in the complicated diplomatic relations between the Triple Alliance and the Russian Government, and will result in an appeal to arms. Bishop Strossmayer is the recognized leader of the 18,000,000 Slavs who constitute the integral portion of the population of Austro-Hungary, and this attempt to discipline him will probably result in an insurrection in Croatia and Esclavonia.

Washington Jottings.

The first delegate to the International Maritime Congress to report at Washington was Captain A. M. Bisbee, the delegate from China, an American who has been for many years connected with the Chinese Imperial Customs.

General D. H. Hastings arrived in Washington yesterday afternoon, and has been confined to his room ever since by a sudden attack of cramps.

The receipts from internal revenue yesterday were $415,281, and from customs $987,535.

Knights Templar Call on the President.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The White House was again thronged with visitors to-day, the majority being Knights Templar and their families. There were about 300 of the East Room during the forenoon. They expressed a great desire to pay their respects to the President before leaving for their homes, and the President hearing of it came down stairs and shook hands with all of them.

Took an Overdose of Morphine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Lockport, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Dr. D. W. Harrington, about 55 years of age, for many years a physician in good standing in this City, died at 11:28 to-day, evidently from an overdose of morphine taken some time during the night or early this morning. He leaves a wife and a son, the Rev. Frank P. Harrington, Chaplain of Deveaux College, at Suspension Bridge.

What Started a Canard.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 11.—While hoisting timbers to the top of of a new factory to-day the apparatus broke and fell to the ground, carrying three men with it. One, David Forest, a carpenter, was injured internally perhaps fatally. The accident started a canard that a building had fallen burying several men.

An Outlaw Sentenced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Therbrooke, Quebec, Oct 11.—Donald Morrison, the Megantic outlaw against whom was rendered a verdict of manslaughter for the killing of Constable Warren in 1888, was to-day sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary.

The Wise Words of a Count.

By Cable to The Freeman.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—Count Von Waldersee, in presenting the prizes at the Exhibition of Appliances for the Prevention of Accidents yesterday, said he hoped the worst of all accidents, war, would be averted.

Court of Appeals Calendars.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Oct. 11.—The Court of Appeals calendar for Monday October 14, First Division, is: Nos. 38, 42, 44, 46, 47, 48, 51, 53.

THE DEADLY ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRES.

A Horrible Spectacle in New-York City To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New-York, Oct. 11.—A telegraph lineman named John Feeks met with a horrible death at the corner of Centre and Chambers-street at 1 o'clock this afternoon from contact with an electric light wire. He was employed by the Western Union Company. He presented a horrible sight as he died on the net work of wires in mid air, while the deadly fluid actually made his body sizzle and his blood pour out to the sidewalk and over the clothing of terrified spectators. The accident, occurring in the middle of the day in one of the busiest parts of the City, was witnessed by a large number of people. The man's body lay limp and motionless over the mass of wires attached to the cross-trees of the pole. The firemen brought out a ladder and one went up with a pair of shears to cut the wires.

Proposals for State Work Opened.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Oct. 11.—Proposals for the following pieces of work were opened and awarded by the Superintendent of Public Works to-day: For building a highway protection wall on the west side of the Genesee River at Rochester, awarded to William Fuller, of Rochester, at $4,283. The improvement of seven pieces of work on Champlain Canal at Stillwater and Schuylerville improving 325 feet south of Lock 12, improving 4,000 feet south of Lock 14, at Glens Falls feeder, improving three abutments south of Lock 16, for numerous improvements south of Lock No 7, were awarded as to pieces two and one, to John W. Whalen & Company, of Whitehall, at $25,246 and $17,640 respectively; pieces Nos. 4, 6, 7 and 8, to James E. Floyd & Company, of Sandy Hill, at $2,645, $2,139, $1,992 and $2,877 respectively, and piece No. 5 to James D. Sherrill at $7,684.

At Fleetwood Park This Afternoon.

At Fleetwood Park this afternoon there were over 7,000 people present to see the great trotting match between Belle Hamlin and Harry Wilkes for a purse of $5,000. Preliminary to this race there was a contest in the 2:25 class. The entries were Charley Gibson, Bessie H., C. C. K., John Ferguson, Wonder, Edith R., David Jones and Corona. C. C. K. won the first heat in 2:25¼, John Ferguson a close second.

When the race for the $5,000 purse was called Belle Hamlin was the favorite, selling at $65 to $50 for Harry Wilkes. It did not disappoint its backers in the first heat, for it went under the wire a winner in 2:16¾.

Belle Hamlin won the second heat in the race in 2:19½.

The Appeal in the Kemmler Case.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Tracy C. Becker, who was the Referee appointed to take testimony as to whether the death by electricity would be cruel and inhuman or not, received telegrams from Hon. W. Burke Cochran, counsel for Kemmler, and Attorney-General Tabor this morning requesting him to make a motion requesting the Judges of the General Term to set a day of this term on which they would listen to the appeal from Judge Day's decision. Mr. Becker, in giving the reasons why the motion should be granted, stated he was informed that both parties desired a speedy hearing of the appeal.

Affairs of the Port of New-York.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—An important conference was held at the Treasury Department to-day between Secretary Windom, Assistant Secretaries Batchellor and Tichenor, and Chief Special Agent Tingle and Collector Erhardt, Appraiser Cooper and Surveyor Lyon, of New-York, in regard to the administration of the Customs service at that port.

An Offer to Grover Cleveland.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New-York, Oct. 11.—A paper here says Tammany offered Grover Cleveland the Congressional nomination in the Ninth District, but he declined it.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New-York, Oct. 11.—Missouri Pacific, Atchison, New-England, cotton oil and sugar comprised all there was of the stock market this morning, those stocks monopolizing about seven eighths of the business and all the movements of interest.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Doings of Church Legislators In New-York To-Day.

THE CZAR NOW IN BERLIN.

His Reception in the German Capital This Morning.

ALASKA PIRATE SEALERS.

DOINGS OF THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Consent Given for Consecration of Bishops of Oregon and California.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New-York, Oct 11.—In the Protestant Episcopal General Convention to-day the Rev. Dr. Benedict, Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, submitted a report that the Committee deemed it inexpedient to make any change in the representation to the General Convention, or to make any change in the method of voting. The Committee asked to be discharged from further consideration of the subject. The report was signed by the members of the Committee, two were absent and two dissented. The House assented to the discharge of the Committee, but when their report was submitted objection to its present consideration was made and it was placed on the calendar. Dr. Benedict, from the same Committee, reported in favor of allowing Bishops to have the offices of the Church set forth in modern tongues, other than the English when the number of persons acquainted with the English tongue is considerable. Placed on the calendar. The Rev. Dr. Huntington offered a resolution providing for the addition of a short office of prayer to the book of Common Prayer. Placed on the calendar. S. Corning Judd offered a resolution for the establishment of Court of Appeals in the various Dioceses. The Rev. Dr. Egar, of Central New-York, and John H. Stolsenburgh, of Indiana, offered resolutions looking to the same object. They were all placed on the calendar. A message from the House of Bishops was received consenting to the consecration of the Rev. Drs. Morris and Spalding as Bishops of Oregon and Colorado respectively.

The House took up the report on the Hymnal. The report was in favor of several changes in the present Hymnal comprising omissions, substitutions and additions. The Rev. Dr. Nelson presented the report and spoke in favor of its adoption. Hill Burgwin moved that the matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole to avoid a long discussion. The motion was carried and the House went into Committee. It was decided that the hymns should be called by numbers, one by one, and that each hymn to which no objection is made shall be considered approved. The Rev. Dr. Harwood, of Connecticut, moved that Hymn No. 5,330 in the present hymnal be substituted for Hymn 5 in the proposed Hymnal. Carried.

CZAR'S RECEPTION IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Emperor William Embraced Him Repeatedly and Bismarck Took His Hand.

By Cable to The Freeman.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The Czar has arrived here. He was accompanied by the Grand Duke Geo, his second son. Emperor William, several of the Royal Princes, Prince Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck and a number of Generals and Court officials received the Czar and Grand Duke at the Lehrter station. The Czar was attired in the uniform of the German Alexander Regiment, of which he is Honorary Colonel. He and Emperor William embraced repeatedly. After their greeting was over the Czar turned to Prince Bismarck and shook hands with him. He also held a brief conversation with the Chancellor. The members of the Czar's suite were then presented to the suite of Emperor William, after which the guard of honor defiled before the Czar, the band playing the Russian National Hymn. The party then proceeded to the State carriages, which were in waiting, and drove through the Brandenburg Gate, across the Koenigsplatz, and to the Russian Embassy, the horses going on a fast trot for the entire distance. As the imperial carriages passed the Brandenberg Gate a park of artillery began firing a salute of 101 guns. The streets along the route were plentifully decorated with flags and bunting, but the crowd which had gathered did not cheer as the Czar passed along. Emperor William wore the uniform of the Russian Wyborgan Regiment and had on his breast the decoration of the Russian Order of Standrem. Prince Bismarck also wore his Russian orders. The Admirals attached to the British Channel Squadron, which is now at Kiel, were at the station when the Czar arrived, and were saluted by him. Emperor William took his departure from the Russian Embassy after remaining there for but a few minutes. Prince Bismarck remained and held a conversation with the Czar, lasting 20 minutes longer. The Czar took luncheon with the German officers forming his special suite.

WORK OF PIRATICAL ALASKA SEALERS.

What President Sloss, of the Commercial Company, Says.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Louis Sloss, President of the Alaska Commercial Company, said yesterday their lease expires May 1, but if the present state of affairs continues the Company would not renew it. The number of piratical vessels in Behring Sea is greater than formerly. The Government cutter has done what it could, but it is entirely powerless to watch the whole region. There have been probably 30,000 skins stolen by private sealing vessels and fully 50,000 or 60,000 seals killed. The Alaska Commercial Company has taken about 100,000 skins this year, a smaller number than usual. Not only are the seals becoming less, but they are smaller than formerly. If the revenue cutter should bring any captured seals to Ounalaska it is a feregone conclusion that a riot would occur there. Much damage would result by fire and destruction of property. Such an occurence is probable at any time, and the possibility of its spreading is a standing menace to the peace of Alaskan ports, owing to the criminal and brutal character of the outlawed sealers. Regarding other industries in the northern territory, Mr. Sloss said it was thought that the Alaskan salmon supply was inexhaustible, but the experience of this year teaches differently. The canneries have reduced the amount of salmon materially. One establishment that last season put up 100,000 cases was only able this year, with more men and increased exertions, to secure 56,000 cases. He believed Alaska must depend for its future prospects upon its mineral wealth.

A Decision About Pork.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—In the case of William Wallace vs Board of Trade, on appeal from the decision of Judge Shepard, who refused to make permanent the injunction restraining the Board of Trade from delivering to the plaintiff large quantities of green October pork, the Appellate Court to-day upheld the decision of the lower court. An appeal will be taken.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

AT the recent election in North Dakota, 39,500 votes were polled. Hasbrough's majority for Congress is 15,000, and Miller's for Governor 12,600. Last fall the vote was 43,-225, and the Republican majority was 9,509.

ONE of Gov. Hill's economics related to the Oneonta Normal School. He opposed the bill for the maintenance of the teachers, but vetoed the one for chairs. The teachers will have to stand for a year, while the money sleeps in the treasury.

HARRY C. CROUCH of this city is the present Democratic United States Consul at Milan, Italy. The salary is $1,500 per year, and there are also some fat perquisites. Probably some Republican can be found who is willing and able to fill the position.

THE State Board of Health, having investigated the cause of the typhoid epidemic at the West Albany car shops, finds that the disease is due to filth caused by drinking the water from wells, and insufficient drainage. It may not be generally known that physicians agree also in calling diphtheria a filth disease.

STEEL rails are now sold quickly for $28.50 per ton, and agents are asking $29. Early in the year the price was $25. The boom in railroad building has caused the advance. The Union Pacific railroad took 40,000 tons last week. The iron industries of the country have not been so busy in five years as they are at present.

COUNTY JUDGE ARBUCKLE of Delaware county, after having considered his renomination by the Democrats for several days, has declined and stepped out of the canvass. Arbuckle is personally popular, and was expected to pull Maynard through for the Assembly. His action has disconcerted the party, and they have thrown the Judgeship away upon a man named Baumes of Sidney, who was never before heard of outside of his native town.

THE first two days of registration in Brooklyn gave 82,050 names. In 1887 the enrollment for the corresponding days was 82,190. In the twelve Democratic wards, or those that voted for Chapin two years ago, there is a loss of 1,055. In the fourteen Republican wards, or those that voted for Baird against Chapin, there is a gain of 844. The tainted state ticket is causing a good many Democrats to retire from politics in Brooklyn as well as New York.

"JONES OF BINGHAMTON" is our Governor pro tem. once more. Gov. Hill went to New Jersey yesterday to stump the state for his friend Leon Abbett, and made a speech in Newark last night. Hill and Abbett are both Whisky Democrats. But the sun always shines brightly over New York when Jones rules. He has been Governor several times on account of Hill's fondness for the outside of the state, and the weather has invariably been pleasant.

CONGRESSMAN RANDALL rode from Philadelphia to Washington yesterday in President Roberts' private car. He was accompanied by his wife and two daughters and his family physician. The journey wearied him greatly, but he walked with the assistance of his wife from the car to the carriage on arriving at Washington. Mr. Randall hopes to be able to be present at the opening of Congress, but it is apparent that disease is cutting short the career of the ablest and most respected statesman of the Democratic party.

MRS. RAY HAMILTON is now busily employed with needle and thread, making shirts and blouses and hemming sheets. She is also to be given training in washing and ironing. Her daily attire is a calico gown, that cost about 40 cents. If she is industrious and well behaved she will be set at liberty on the 26th of May, 1891. Her term of apprenticeship is long enough to make her a good needlewoman and laundress. As she will no longer have the benefit of a partnership with a rich and high-born gentleman, her present experience may prove very useful to her.

IT was on Ionia Island, in the Hudson river near Peekskill, that Breslin and McCarthy fought their prize fight yesterday. The fighting was brutally savage on Breslin's part, and McCarthy was "done up" in a single round. The proceedings were not interrupted by law officers, and the winner announced an intention to fight with Larkin. New York is the only state in the Union in which a prize fight can be publicly advertised and openly conducted without fear of the law. When Gov. Hill announced that he had refused to extradite Sullivan until Gov. Lowry had agreed to let him off with a small fine, the prize fighters at once recognized him as their "one true friend." "Free Whisky and Free Fights" is the platform of the New York Democracy this year.

THE Court of Appeals has decided in the case of Hon. Augustus Bockes, a Supreme Court Justice retired by age before the expiration of his term, that he is entitled to $1,200 in lieu of expenses as well as to his salary of $6,000 a year till the end of the term for which he was elected. Another case of considerable interest to Judges will probably arise next year, after the retirement of Judge Ingalls of this judical district, whose age disqualifies him for service after this year. The constitution provides that a Judge retired by age shall receive pay for the remnant of his term, provided that he has served ten years before his retirement. When Judge Ingalls was a candidate for re-election in 1885, the objection was raised that he would under the constitution be entitled to pay for ten years of idleness. The answer was that he must serve ten years of the term from which he was retired. Judge Ingalls has been on the Supreme bench since 1863, but has served only four years of his present term. If he demands pay for ten years of inaction and the question goes to the Court of Appeals, he will get the money. All the Judges are interested in a favorable decision. In 1890 Judge Learned of this district will retire under exactly similar conditions, with eight years of his last term still ahead.

RAILROAD CRASH IN OHIO.

People Killed and Injured And Rolling Stock Demolished.

BRITISH MAN-OF-WAR RUNS ON A ROCK

The Ship Anson in Harbor of Kiel with a Hole in Its Bottom.

By Cable to The Freeman.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Anson, one of the vessels forming the British Channel Squadron, now at Kiel, is aground in that harbor. It went ashore on a rock and has a hole in its bottom. The Anson is a double-screw, steel armor-plated barbette ship of 10,600 tons.

RAILROAD COLLISION IN OHIO.

Five Trainmen and 13 Miners Injured, Three of the Latter Fatally.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—A Martin's Ferry, Ohio, special says: A collision occurred two miles west of Bridgeport at 6:30 o'clock this morning between the miners' train of two passenger coaches, containing about 70 miners, en route to the Wheeling Creek Coal Works, and a freight train of 21 cars southbound. Both locomotives were demolished and also two passenger cars and eight freight cars. Five trainmen and 13 miners were injured, three of the latter fatally. The collision was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the freight conductor.

The list of killed and injured is:

KILLED—David Moore.

INJURED—Samuel Tracy, three ribs broken and injured internally, will die; Nathan Clay, bruised about the head and body, probably fatally; David Richardson, arm broken in two places and shoulder dislocated, will recover; John Johnson and Thomas Marden, legs crushed, very serious; William Stitt, leg and foot crushed, will recover.

Eight or 10 others were injured, but their wounds are not serious.

What a Young Woman has Done.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—A good-looking young woman from Australia arrived here last night in pursuit of a married man who had wedded her under the pretence that he was single. The fellow is now in jail. He proves to be a noted American criminal, Julius Mailhouse, alias Julius M. House. The Australian girl is Elizabeth Hackett, daughter of a carriage manufacturer in Melbourne. Not long after serving a term in Joliet Prison Mailhouse went to Australia as a drummer for a Chicago meat firm, leaving a handsome wife in this City. His meeting with Miss Hackett, a short but ardent courtship, marriage, a week's honeymoon, then a sudden business call to Sydney, preceded by the drummer borrowing $750 from his new father-in-law, tells the Australian end of the story. Mailhouse was next heard of in San Francisco in a letter telling Miss Hackett to expect him by the next steamer. She did not wait but took the first vessel for the United States, investigating en route his record, of which she had got an inkling. Mailhouse was at home with his first wife last night when arrested. He had no notice of what was coming until confronted by the woman whom he supposed to be in the antipodes. The ex-convict's nerve did not desert him, and he laughingly attempted to embrace his pursuer. She repelled him with an uplifted chair, and declared she would remain in Chicago and support herself till he was again landed in the penitentiary.

Western Railroads at Odds.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The Trans-Missouri Auxiliary Association had a stormy time at its meeting yesterday. The application of the Union Pacific that its business west of Denver be excluded from the jurisdiction of the Association for the reason that the Denver & Rio Grande's business west of Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo was not amenable to the provisions of the agreement, was under consideration. Mr. Mellen declared his company could not stand the competition of outside roads any longer and it was losing its Colorado business. No other line except the United States was subject to the provisions of the agreement so far as Colorado traffic was concerned, the Denver & Fort Worth having withdrawn from the Association because it could not stand the Rio Grande's competition. The Association, in its present shape, was simply a farce. Nearly as many roads were outside of the Association as were in it. The general opinion is that the days of the Trans-Missouri Association are numbered.

Negro Lynched for a Slight Offense.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Oct. 11.—William Moore, a Negro train-hand on the Savannah, Florida & Western Road, was taken from the train at Jessups by a posse of citizens yesterday and lynched. While passing that place Wednesday he had some words with a citizen, and as the train pulled out he threw a stone which struck a bystander. A posse waited for his arrival yesterday and made short work of him.

The Death Record.

Superintendent W. H. Baker, of the Syracuse Forging and Gun Works, at Batavia, N. Y., died at his home in that village yesterday of consumption, aged 53 years. He was the inventor of the new Baker gun.

Daniel W. Thompson, for many years a Justice-of-the-Peace at Red Bank, N. J., died on Wednesday afternoon of dropsy, after a lingering illness. He was 73 years old.

Havoc Wrought by Floods.

By Cable to The Freeman.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Disastrous floods prevail in the Department of the Jura. A number of bridges have been carried away. Lons Le Saulnier, the Capital of the Department, is inundated, and a number of villages are surrounded by water. The military is actively engaged in saving life and property.

A Fatal Explosion of Natural Gas.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PUEBLO, Cal., Oct. 11.—While workmen were sinking a well for natural gas near this City a vein was suddenly struck. The gas ignited from a lamp, causing a terrific explosion. One man was cremated and two others and one woman were burned badly. Their recovery is doubtful.

A 'Longshoreman Beaten and Robbed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 11.—William Hawks, a 'longshoreman, was beaten nearly to death and robbed of $85 in Washington-street this morning. Patrick Howard, also a 'longshoreman, and one of the robbers, was arrested. Another escaped.

GATHERED IN THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

One Deadlock Broken—Conventions Held in a Number of Localities.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—After the one hundred and fiftieth vote had been taken in the Eighth District Republican Judicial Convention here to-day, a recess was taken for half an hour. On reassembling Erie and Genesee Counties transferred their votes from Judge Barker, to the Hon. John S. Lambert, County Judge of Chautauqua County, who was thereupon nominated by acclamation for Justice of the Supreme Court.

UTICA, Oct. 11.—At noon to-day the Twenty-Third District Republican Senatorial Convention came to a conclusion to adjourn until next Tuesday evening, when it will meet again in this City and renew the battle that has waged since Monday noon. Five hundred and sixty-nine ballots have been taken without the break of a single vote. The general impression prevailing at the time of adjournment was that upon reassembling next Tuesday the Herkimer and Madison County delegates will have come to an understanding.

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 11.—The full official returns of the recent election in North Dakota show a total vote of 39,500. Hansbrough, Republican candidate for Congress, received a majority of 15,000; Miller, Republican for Governor, 12,000. The majority in favor of Prohibition is 1,100. Eighty per cent. of the total vote was in favor of the Constitution and 70 per cent. was the average Republican vote.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 11—The vote of Jefferson County was canvassed yesterday, the result being that the Democrats lose a State Senator. This leaves the upper house of the Legislature a tie, but the Democrats will have a majority of seven on joint ballot.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 11.—According to returns received from all the legislative districts in the State, the Republicans have elected 135 of the 169 members. The Democrats have 27 and seven are Independents with Republican proclivities. The Republican majority on joint ballot will be 125.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—The Senatorial Convention took two ballots this morning and adjourned to 2 P. M. The ballots stood Priest 12, Hunter 10, Sweet 5. Upon reassembling this afternoon the Convention, without taking a ballot, adjourned to next Tuesday at Auburn.

A Suicide in Jersey City.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—Yesterday afternoon a well-dressed man about 35 years old walked into Taylor's Hotel and asked for a room. He was assigned to one of the best in the house and registered as "J. R. Howard, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y." He seemed to be in good spirits, and before going to his room had several drinks. This morning he was found dead in bed, having shot himself with a revolver. On a table was a letter written by Howard, saying he had determined to kill himself, that his right name was Robert H. Payne, and that his home was in St. Louis. Upon his person were a gold watch and $14.50.

A Potentate's Property Sequestered.

By Cable to The Freeman.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—Bishop Strossmayer's valuable church property in the bishopric of Diakovar, Hungary, has been sequestered, the Bishop having diverted to his own use several million florins. It is suspected that this is a move in the complicated diplomatic relations between the Triple Alliance and the Russian Government, and will result in an appeal to arms. Bishop Strossmayer is the recognized leader of the 18,000,000 Slavs who constitute the integral portion of the population of Austro-Hungary, and this attempt to discipline him will probably result in an insurrection in Croatia and Esclavonia.

Washington Jottings.

Knights Templar Call on the President.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The White House was again thronged with visitors to-day, the majority being Knights Templar and their families. There were about 300 of the East Room during the forenoon. They expressed a great desire to pay their respects to the President before leaving for their homes, and the President hearing of it came down stairs and shook hands with all of them.

Took an Overdose of Morphine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Dr. D. W. Harrington, about 55 years of age, for many years a physician in good standing in this City, died at 11:28 to-day, evidently from an overdose of morphine taken some time during the night or early this morning. He leaves a wife and a son, the Rev. Frank P. Harrington, Chaplain of Deveaux College, at Suspension Bridge.

What Started a Canard.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—While hoisting timbers to the top of of a new factory to-day the apparatus broke and fell to the ground, carrying three men with it. One, David Forest, a carpenter, was injured internally perhaps fatally. The accident started a canard that a building had fallen burying several men.

THE DEADLY ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRES.

A Horrible Spectacle in New-York City To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 11.—A telegraph lineman named John Feeks met with a horrible death at the corner of Centre and Chambers-street at 1 o'clock this afternoon from contact with an electric light wire. He was employed by the Western Union Company. He presented a horrible sight as he died on the net work of wires in mid-air, while the deadly fluid actually made his body sizzle and his blood pour out to the sidewalk and over the clothing of terrified spectators. The accident, occurring in the middle of the day in one of the busiest parts of the City, was witnessed by a large number of people. The man's body lay limp and motionless over the mass of wires attached to the cross-trees of the pole. The firemen brought out a ladder and one went up with a pair of shears to cut the wires.

Proposals for State Work Opened.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Oct. 11.—Proposals for the following pieces of work were opened and awarded by the Superintendent of Public Works to-day: For building a highway protection wall on the west side of the Genesee River at Rochester, awarded to William Fuller, of Rochester, at $4,283. The improvement of seven pieces of work on Champlain Canal at Stillwater and Schuylerville improving 525 feet south of Lock 12, improving 4,000 feet south of Lock 14, at Glens Falls feeder, improving three abutments south of Lock 16, for numerous improvements south of Lock No 7, were awarded as to pieces two and one, to John W. Whalen & Company, of Whitehall, at $25,246 and $17,640 respectively; pieces Nos. 4, 6, 7 and 8, to James E. Floyd & Company, of Sandy Hill, at $2,645, $2,139, $1,992 and $2,877 respectively, and piece No. 5 to James D. Sherrill at $7,684.

At Fleetwood Park This Afternoon.

At Fleetwood Park this afternoon there were over 7,000 people present to see the great trotting match between Belle Hamlin and Harry Wilkes for a purse of $5,000. Preliminary to this race there was a contest in the 2:25 class. The entries were Charley Gibson, Bessie H., C. C. K., John Ferguson, Wonder, Edith R., David Jones and Corona. C. C. K. won the first heat in 2:25¼, John Ferguson a close second.

When the race for the $5,000 purse was called Belle Hamlin was the favorite, selling at $65 to $50 for Harry Wilkes. It did not disappoint its backers in the first heat, for it went under the wire a winner in 2:16¾.

Belle Hamlin won the second heat in the race in 2:19¼.

The Appeal in the Kemmler Case.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Tracy C. Becker, who was the Referee appointed to take testimony as to whether the death by electricity would be cruel and inhuman or not, received telegrams from Hon. W. Burke Cochran, counsel for Kemmler, and Attorney-General Tabor this morning requesting him to make a motion requesting the Judges of the General Term to set a day of this term on which they would listen to the appeal from Judge Day's decision. Mr. Becker, in giving the reasons why the motion should be granted, stated he was informed that both parties desired a speedy hearing of the appeal.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Doings of Church Legislators In New-York To-Day.

THE CZAR NOW IN BERLIN.

His Reception in the German Capital This Morning.

ALASKA PIRATE SEALERS.

DOINGS OF THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Consent Given for Consecration of Bishops of Oregon and California.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct 11.—In the Protestant Episcopal General Convention to-day the Rev. Dr. Benedict, Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, submitted a report that the Committee deemed it inexpedient to make any change in the representation to the General Convention, or to make any change in the method of voting. The Committee asked to be discharged from further consideration of the subject. The report was signed by the members of the Committee, two were absent and two dissented. The House assented to the discharge of the Committee, but when their report was submitted objection to its present consideration was made and it was placed on the calendar. Dr. Benedict, from the same Committee, reported in favor of allowing Bishops to have the offices of the Church set forth in modern tongues, other than the English when the number of persons acquainted with the English tongue is considerable. Placed on the calendar. The Rev. Dr. Huntington offered a resolution providing for the addition of a short office of prayer to the book of Common Prayer. Placed on the calendar. S. Corning Judd offered a resolution for the establishment of Court of Appeals in the various Dioceses. The Rev. Dr. Egar, of Central New-York, and John H. Stolsenburgh, of Indiana, offered resolutions looking to the same object. They were all placed on the calendar. A message from the House of Bishops was received consenting to the consecration of the Rev. Drs. Morris and Spalding as Bishops of Oregon and Colorado respectively.

The House took up the report on the Hymnal. The report was in favor of several changes in the present Hymnal comprising omissions, substitutions and additions. The Rev. Dr. Nelson presented the report and spoke in favor of its adoption. Hill Burgwin moved that the matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole to avoid a long discussion. The motion was carried and the House went into Committee. It was decided that the hymns should be called by numbers, one by one, and that each hymn to which no objection is made shall be considered approved. The Rev. Dr. Harwood, of Connecticut, moved that Hymn No. 5,330 in the present hymnal be substituted for Hymn 5 in the proposed Hymnal. Carried.

CZAR'S RECEPTION IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Emperor William Embraced Him Repeatedly and Bismarck Took His Hand.

By Cable to The Freeman.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Czar has arrived here. He was accompanied by the Grand Duke Geo, his second son. Emperor William, several of the Royal Princes, Prince Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck and a number of Generals and Court officials received the Czar and Grand Duke at the Lehrter station. The Czar was attired in the uniform of the German Alexander Regiment, of which he is Honorary Colonel. He and Emperor William embraced repeatedly. After their greeting was over the Czar turned to Prince Bismarck and shook hands with him. He also held a brief conversation with the Chancellor. The members of the Czar's suite were then presented to the suite of Emperor William, after which the guard of honor defiled before the Czar, the band playing the Russian National Hymn. The party then proceeded to the State carriages, which were in waiting, and drove through the Brandenburg Gate, across the Koenigsplatz, and to the Russian Embassy, the horses going on a fast trot for the entire distance. As the imperial carriages passed the Brandenberg Gate a park of artillery began firing a salute of 101 guns. The streets along the route were plentifully decorated with flags and bunting, but the crowd which had gathered did not cheer as the Czar passed along. Emperor William wore the uniform of the Russian Wyborgan Regiment and had on his breast the decoration of the Russian Order of Standrem. Prince Bismarck also wore his Russian orders. The Admirals attached to the British Channel Squadron, which is now at Kiel, were at the station when the Czar arrived, and were saluted by him. Emperor William took his departure from the Russian Embassy after remaining there for but a few minutes. Prince Bismarck remained and held a conversation with the Czar, lasting 20 minutes longer. The Czar took luncheon with the German officers forming his special suite.

WORK OF PIRATICAL ALASKA SEALERS.

What President Sloss, of the Commercial Company, Says.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Louis Sloss, President of the Alaska Commercial Company, said yesterday their lease expires May 1, but if the present state of affairs continues the Company would not renew it. The number of piratical vessels in Behring Sea is greater than formerly. The Government cutter has done what it could, but it is entirely powerless to watch the whole region. There have been probably 30,000 skins stolen by private sealing vessels and fully 50,000 or 60,000 seals killed. The Alaska Commercial Company has taken about 100,000 skins this year, a smaller number than usual. Not only are the seals becoming less, but they are smaller than formerly. If the revenue cutter should bring any captured seals to Ounalaska it is a foregone conclusion that a riot would occur there. Much damage would result by fire and destruction of property. Such an occurence is probable at any time, and the possibility of its spreading is a standing menace to the peace of Alaskan ports, owing to the criminal and brutal character of the outlawed sealers. Regarding other industries in the northern territory, Mr. Sloss said it was thought that the Alaskan salmon supply was inexhaustible, but the experience of this year teaches differently. The canneries have reduced the amount of salmon materially. One establishment that last season put up 100,000 cases was only able this year, with more men and increased exertions, to secure 56,000 cases. He believed Alaska must depend for its future prospects upon its mineral wealth.

A Decision About Pork.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—In the case of William Wallace vs Board of Trade, on appeal from the decision of Judge Shepard, who refused to make permanent the injunction restraining the Board of Trade from delivering to the plaintiff large quantities of green October pork, the Appellate Court to-day upheld the decision of the lower court. An appeal will be taken.

A DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN REVOLT.

The New York Staats Zeitung, the largest, ablest and most influential German newspaper in the United States, holding rank with the Tribune, World and Sun in politics, and always Democratic, has come out squarely for the defeat of David B. Hill and his "paper mash" ticket. In a recent article it said, beginning with a reference to a communication from one of its regular correspondents:

Our correspondent bestows a few not quite parliamentary epithets upon Mr. Hill, and comes to the conclusion that until the party frees itself from that man's control it is bound to be defeated, and that it had better be defeated now than in 1892, when Hill would secure the Presidential nomination and thereby lead the party to ruin and destruction.

Our correspondent comes certainly quite near the truth, and we have ourselves confessed that we should shed no tears should the Democratic state ticket succumb in the next election. * * His [Governor Hill's] lack of sympathy with reformatory and progressive tendencies, his identification with the ideas of spoils and machine politicians, render him, however, entirely incompetent for the leadership of a party that ought to be thoroughly identified with reformatory principles, so that it is unquestionably the duty of the better elements of the party to paralyze Hill's "grip" on the party organization.

This is not an outburst of Clevelandish spleen, for the Staats Zeitung is not the organ of any leader or clique. It is simply a broad-minded and patriotic newspaper, devoted to the public interests, and always hitherto faithful to the Democratic party. It is not "cranky" on the liquor question; it does not contend that our citizens of German birth or descent hold the right to get drunk and remain eternally drunk to be the highest privilege on earth, as Democratic newspapers are in the habit of contending; neither does it take a position in favor of absolute prohibition and the wiping up of the last drop of intoxicating liquor from the face of the globe. It is plain, sensible and practical. It knows a good thing when it sees it, and it also has the discernment to descry a public rascal and the courage to "spot" him. When, therefore, it denounces Hill and calls for his defeat in order to get him out of the way for 1892, it acts upon the dictates of its usual good common sense and judgment. It foresees only evil from the strengthening of Hill's grip upon the party by a Democratic victory this year. It will enable him to use New York to force himself upon the party as its candidate for the Presidency in 1892, when of course it would be defeated.

The Staats Zeitung's objections to Mr. Hill may not go as deep as Republican objections, but they suffice to show the growth of Democratic discontent under the tyranny of his machine. The tainted ticket cannot be elected if the Staats Zeitung advises against it. It is hardly necessary to explain why, save that when the German vote is withdrawn from the Democratic party it shrinks into a hopeless minority. Gov. Hill's attitude towards the German vote has involved the worst insult that could be offered to intelligent and worthy citizens. He has vetoed wholesome laws for the regulation of the liquor traffic, and then said to the German voters: Behold! I have done all this for you!" German voters are getting very tired of being held up as the mainstay and sole reliance of the liquor power. They do not enjoy the false distinction of being regarded as the great drinking and drunken class of the American people. And this shameless misrepresentation of their true character for the basest of political purposes has had a great deal of influence in provoking the Staats Zeitung's revolt against Hill and his putrescent ticket.

WHERE PROPHET HILL IS WITHOUT HONOR.

We quote among "Public Opinion" notes a remark by the Democratic St. Louis Republic to the effect that the Democratic party of the West "has no stomach for being led by an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue, simply because he happens to get control of the New York machine." The St. Louis Republic is the leading Democratic newspaper for all of that section of country lying between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains. Its influence transcends that of any other Democratic newspaper west of the Atlantic cities, not even excepting the Louisville Courier-Journal. It holds the Democratic vote of Missouri in the hollow of its hand. There is therefore a potency in its opposition to Hill and its threats of his annihilation that is not to be lightly thought of.

If Hill is forced upon the ticket, Missouri is therefore likely to become the pivotal state in 1892. Its Democratic majority has been dwindling very rapidly in recent Presidential elections. In 1876 Mr. Tilden carried it by 58,048 plurality. In 1880 Gen. Hancock's plurality was 55,042. In 1884 Mr. Cleveland's plurality was 33,909. In 1888 Cleveland's plurality dropped to 25,717. The Democratic majority upon the total vote of 523,198 was 5,289. A revolt against Hill by such Democrats as dislike his methods, aided by those who are going to insist that the nomination should go West, would suffice to make it a Republican state.

Hill's grip upon the New-York machine will be a dangerous thing to exploit before a national convention. It will be a proclamation to the country that it is to be controlled by the criminal classes with whom Mr. Hill has long made his political bed in New York city. In the West machine politics are in disrepute, and are continually getting hard knocks.

But what if some Republican paper in New York should call Mr. Hill "an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue." We fear it would be denounced as guilty of discourtesy and disrespect towards the chief executive of the state.

HOW HILL RUNS THE MACHINE.

Cord Meyer, of Maspeth, L. I., was for several years a member of the Democratic State Committee for the first district, and has served as its Secretary. He went to the late state convention at Syracuse with eight of the twelve Long Island delegates pledged to his re-election. But he is a Cleveland Democrat, and Hill was determined to get rid of him at any cost. So he selected Pat Gleason, the Mayor of Long Island City, to take Meyer's place. Gleason picked up two Long Island Democrats at Syracuse and induced them to enter the convention along with himself as contesting delegates. Neither Gleason nor either of his tools had been named in any caucus or convention; they had come to Syracuse merely as lookers-on. But Hill's Committee on Credentials reported in their favor, and three properly elected and certified delegates were thrown out to make room for these interlopers. Meyer's supporters were by this means reduced to a minority, and Gleason was elected to the State Committee in his place. There was no necessity for this arbitrary action, for Hill was sure of twenty-five of the thirty-four committeemen already. But Gleason, a politician of the most unsavory reputation, was a handy man for Hill's uses, while Meyer's well-known friendship for Cleveland marked him for humiliation and sacrifice. The Democrats of Long Island will settle their account with Hill at the polls. And German Democrats throughout the state, who recognize in Meyer a capable and worthy leader of their forces, are signifying that they have a bone to pick with the Governor also.

ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Hill's Putrescent Ticket — Opposed by a Clean One.

[From the Buffalo Express.]

Gov. Hill and his group of journalistic satellites have an unenviable job before them from now until election day. They will be called on to defend a ticket that stinks of corruption and incompetency and to attack another ticket that savors so strongly of honesty as to make the task of the villifiers a doubly-repugnant one.

A comparison of the Republican and Democratic candidates will give an idea of the burden which the Grand Mogul of the Democratic party in this state is carrying on shoulders that are already weighed down with fears for the owner's political safety.

Gov. Hill has named Frank Rice for Secretary of State. He is the man whom Dick Croker or one of his followers called a "Mugwump Democrat." Tammany did not oppose his nomination solely because he was on the Governor's cut-and-dried ticket. The chiefs had other and more substantial reasons for their objections. They remembered Frank Rice as a man who did not hesitate to make war against one element of his party if his hostility resulted in personal or political aggrandizement. Nor did they forget his work in ousting a fellow-Democrat from his seat in the Assembly. At the head of the other ticket we find the name of John Ingersoll Gilbert. His record in Assembly and Senate speaks for itself. He is obnoxious to no element in his party.

Martin Warren Cooke and Edward Wemple are opposed to each other for Comptroller. On one side is a friend of the people, an enemy of monopoly; on the other, a public servant who was mixed up in a scandal that stinks in the nostrils of honest men. Wemple's official record is his own accuser. The Committee on Appropriations of the last Assembly voiced public sentiment when it declared him guilty of gross negligence in connection with the ceiling business. In this committee were a number of Democrats.

Elliot Danforth is the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer. He is nothing but a Hill heeler. Ira M. Hedges is Danforth's competitor. His war record and his reputation as a careful business man have made him popular with all classes.

That tainted, negligent public servant, Charlas F. Tabor, is up again for the Attorney Generalship. He is responsible for the contract under which the ceiling fraud was consummated. His incompetency did not stop at the drafting of that honey-combed instrument. He neglected to take action against Sullivan, Snaith or Andrews until his renomination was in danger. This is the figure head that that brilliant lawyer and clean official, James M. Varnum of New York, is invited to knock down.

There is no choice between the candidates for State Engineer and Surveyor on personal grounds, but William P. VanRensselaer's superiority as a canal expert eminently fits him for the position.

Gov. Hill's organs have resorted to every known means to blacken Judge Haight's record, but their frivolous accusations have acted as boomerangs. The Republican nominee for the Court of Appeals is too well known throughout New York as an able and impartial Judge to be hurt by the slings and arrows of his puny political enemies. His opponent, Denis O'Brien, is known as an unscrupulous politician. He has no legal attainments that commend him to the suffrages of the people

PUBLIC OPINION.

It is unquestionably the duty of the better element of the party to paralyze Hill's "grip" on the party organization.—New York Staats Zeitung, Dem.

There are some indications that Gov. Hill of New York can get his hat on easier than he could just after the Syracuse convention. And still his head is big enough.—Springfield Union.

The Democratic party of this section has no stomach for being led to defeat by an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue simply because he happens to get control of the New York machine.—St. Louis Republic, Dem.

Fremont Cole goes to the rear. Charles T. Saxton comes to the front. That is an epitome of Republican progress and policy this year. Cole is the over smart young Republican Speaker of the last Assembly, who was smirched by the ceiling scandal. Saxton is the author of the ballot-reform bill which his party has made one of its issues.—Buffalo Express.

Penurious New York, with its Irish city government, is still floundering in the slough of selfishness as to what to do in getting the World's Fair located in that foreignized city and paying the cost of the same. It wants somebody else to furnish the funds. Meanwhile Chicago is moving on in the even tenor of her way, collecting millions towards paying the costs of the fair.—Cleveland Leader.

There is a good deal of fluttering in the Democratic ranks lest after all the state should go Republican this fall. The small taxpayers all over the state have discovered that David B. Hill is not their friend. He is "in" with the wholesale liquor men, but the people who work for their living and pay rent and taxes in a small way are "out" with David B. Hill. They say that he is "in the mash."—Saratogian.

The state liquor dealers propose to handle their campaign money themselves this year instead of turning it in to the general state fund. This doesn't suit Hill and his lieutenants, but it emphasizes the fact that the rum power is simply using the state Democracy as a catspaw to serve its own interests. The Democrat who votes the Democratic ticket this year isn't voting for Democracy at all, but for Rumocracy.—Ithaca Journal.

Although those Republicans on the Ceiling Committee who were responsible in a degree for the character of the ceiling contract and the manner in which its provisions were carried out have been made sensible of the displeasure of their party, the Democratic party gives Sheehan no intimation that it likes him the less for anything he has done or left undone. A party which has condoned so much in Hill is naturally inclined to be indulgent toward his lieutenants.—Syracuse Standard.

CURRENT HUMOR.

They are talking of John L. Sullivan for congress. He would feel at home when he struck the ayes and noes.

Customer—"How much is that ring?" New jewelry clerk—"It's marked 18c. Eighteen cents, please."

Doctor, to dying patient—"Death does not end all, my dear friend." Dying man—"Right, doctor. You and the undertaker send in your bills after that."

Tailor—"I've stepped around to collect that little bill."

Travers—"Sorry, but I'm short. How would it do for me to order another suit?"

Young man—What do you think I should get, doctor, to get rid of superfluous hair?

Baldheaded Doctor (feeling his polished crown)—Get married, my young friend, get married.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

The early bird catches the bronchitis, and lovers of early morning walks will find this a true maxim. If we were permitted to make a suggestion, we should whisper: "Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney Clay County, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, at well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1, at VanDeusen Bros., Rondout, and F. J. R. Carke's Kingston.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

When you need a good, safe laxative, ask your druggist for a box of Ayer's Pills, and you will find that they give perfect satisfaction. For indigestion torpid liver and sick headache there is nothing superior. Leading physicians recommend them.

Bright teeth, and lips that glow the while,
Give light and color to a smile;
And, infinitely more than this,
Give light and color to a kiss.
But both must suffer from the want
Of the life-giving Sozodont.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

DYSPEPSIA

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organs, removes the faint feeling, creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. It will do you good.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

100 LADIES WANTED,

And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Children like it. Everyone praises it. Large-size package 50 cents. At all druggists.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

CURE YOURSELF.

Don't pay large doctors' bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent to you on receipt of three 2-cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

They are the only reliable pain-killing plasters known—soothing and strengthening—the Hop Plasters.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that give so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh.

USE SCATTER-CORNS.

Best Corn Killer on Earth; removes Hard or Soft Corns or Bunions in three applications; no pain, soreness or cutting; keeps the feet comfortable; makes walking a pleasure.

Insist on having Scatter-Corns. At druggists, or send 10c. silver for sample by mail.

KASKINE.

THE NEW QUININE.

No Bad Effect, No Headache, No Nausea, No Ringing Ears, Cures Quickly, Pleasant, Pure.

A Powerful Tonic

A Specific for Malaria, Rheumatism, Nervous Prostration.

The most scientific and successful blood purifier. Superior to quinine.

Mr Lode Hoornbeck, of the U. S. Ship Kearsarge, writes that he meets people almost daily that have used and are using Kaskine, and who affirm from experience that it is superior to quinine in tonic and curative properties, and produces no subsequent bad effects.

Mr. John C. Scarborough, Selma, N. C., writes: "I got malaria in the Southern army, and for a dozen years suffered from its debilitating effects. I was terribly run down when I heard of Kaskine, the new quinine. It helped me at once. I gained 35 pounds.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican Electors of the several towns in the County of Ulster and the Wards of the City of Kingston are requested to choose Delegates, as heretofore alloted, to attend a Convention to be held at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, on Thursday, October 17, 1889, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating County Officers and choosing Delegates to the Senatorial and Judicial Conventions and for transacting such other business as may be brought forward for consideration. The Town and City Committees are also requested to call the caucuses in their respective towns, districts and wards to select delegates to such County Convention, at such places as they may designate and to give notice thereof in the manner prescribed by the annexed resolution, on the 11th day of October, which is hereby fixed as the day on which such caucuses are to be held. By order of the County Committee.

W. R. SHEFFIELD, Chairman.
A. S. NEWCOMB, Secretary.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the Republican County Convention, held October 3, 1888, and is the resolution referred to in the above call and to which attention of town and city committees is called.

Resolved, That hereafter the County Central Committee issue the call for the County Convention at least thirty days before the time fixed by them for the holding of such Convention; and that in such call they fix the time for the holding of caucuses in the various towns of the County and the wards of the City of Kingston; which time shall be at least five days before the holding of the said County Convention.

Resolved, That the various Town Committees and the City Committee issue the call for caucuses in their respective towns and districts and in the wards of the City, and post the same in at least six public places in said towns and districts or wards at least six days before the holding of such caucuses, which caucuses shall be held at least five days before the meeting of the County Convention.

W. R. SHEFFIELD, Chairman.
A. S. NEWCOMB, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN WARD CAUCUSES.

The Republican electors of the various wards of the City of Kingston are requested to meet in their respective wards as follows: First Ward, Court House; Second Ward, City Hall; Third Ward, Greeley Hall; Fourth Ward, Steimer's Hotel; Fifth Ward, Engine House, Mill street; Sixth Ward, Engine House, Abeel street; Seventh Ward, Engine House, Hone street; Eighth Ward, Engine House, Wilbur; Ninth Ward, Engine House, Clinton avenue, on FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican County Convention, and the First and Second Assembly District Conventions. By order of City Committee.

A DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN REVOLT.

The New York Staats Zeitung, the largest, ablest and most influential German newspaper in the United States, holding rank with the Tribune, World and Sun in politics, and always Democratic, has come out squarely for the defeat of David B. Hill and his "paper mash" ticket. In a recent article it said, beginning with a reference to a communication from one of its regular correspondents:

Our correspondent bestows a few not quite parliamentary epithets upon Mr. Hill, and comes to the conclusion that until the party frees itself from that man's control it is bound to be defeated, and that it had better be defeated now than in 1892, when Hill would secure the Presidential nomination and thereby lead the party to ruin and destruction.

Our correspondent comes certainly quite near the truth, and we have ourselves confessed that we should shed no tears should the Democratic state ticket succumb in the next election. * * His [Governor Hill's] lack of sympathy with reformatory and progressive tendencies, his identification with the ideas of spoils and machine politicians, render him, however, entirely incompetent for the leadership of a party that ought to be thoroughly identified with reformatory principles, so that it is unquestionably the duty of the better elements of the party to paralyze Hill's "grip" on the party organization.

This is not an outburst of Clevelandish spleen, for the Staats Zeitung is not the organ of any leader or clique. It is simply a broad-minded and patriotic newspaper, devoted to the public interests, and always hitherto faithful to the Democratic party. It is not "cranky" on the liquor question; it does not contend that our citizens of German birth or descent hold the right to get drunk and remain eternally drunk to be the highest privilege on earth, as Democratic newspapers are in the habit of contending; neither does it take a position in favor of absolute prohibition and the wiping up of the last drop of intoxicating liquor from the face of the globe. It is plain, sensible and practical. It knows a good thing when it sees it, and it also has the discernment to descry a public rascal and the courage to "spot" him. When, therefore, it denounces Hill and calls for his defeat in order to get him out of the way for 1892, it acts upon the dictates of its usual good common sense and judgment. It foresees only evil from the strengthening of Hill's grip upon the party by a Democratic victory this year. It will enable him to use New York to force himself upon the party as its candidate for the Presidency in 1892, when of course it would be defeated.

The Staats Zeitung's objections to Mr. Hill may not go as deep as Republican objections, but they suffice to show the growth of Democratic discontent under the tyranny of his machine. The tainted ticket cannot be elected if the Staats Zeitung advises against it. It is hardly necessary to explain why, save that when the German vote is withdrawn from the Democratic party it shrinks into a hopeless minority. Gov. Hill's attitude towards the German vote has involved the worst insult that could be offered to intelligent and worthy citizens. He has vetoed wholesome laws for the regulation of the liquor traffic, and then said to the German voters: Behold! I have done all this for you!" German voters are getting very tired of being held up as the mainstay and sole reliance of the liquor power. They do not enjoy the false distinction of being regarded as the great drinking and drunken class of the American people. And this shameless misrepresentation of their true character for the basest of political purposes has had a great deal of influence in provoking the Staats Zeitung's revolt against Hill and his putrescent ticket.

WHERE PROPHET HILL IS WITHOUT HONOR.

We quote among "Public Opinion" notes a remark by the Democratic St. Louis Republic to the effect that the Democratic party of the West "has no stomach for being led by an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue, simply because he happens to get control of the New York machine." The St. Louis Republic is the leading Democratic newspaper for all of that section of country lying between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains. Its influence transcends that of any other Democratic newspaper west of the Atlantic cities, not even excepting the Louisville Courier-Journal. It holds the Democratic vote of Missouri in the hollow of its hand. There is therefore a potency in its opposition to Hill and its threats of his annihilation that is not to be lightly thought of.

If Hill is forced upon the ticket, Missouri is therefore likely to become the pivotal state in 1892. Its Democratic majority has been dwindling very rapidly in recent Presidential elections. In 1876 Mr. Tilden carried it by 58,048 plurality. In 1880 Gen. Hancock's plurality was 55,942. In 1884 Mr. Cleveland's plurality was 33,909. In 1888 Cleveland's plurality dropped to 25,717. The Democratic majority upon the total vote of 523,198 was 5,289. A revolt against Hill by such Democrats as dislike his methods, aided by those who are going to insist that the nomination should go West, would suffice to make it a Republican state.

Hill's grip upon the New-York machine will be a dangerous thing to exploit before a national convention. It will be a proclamation to the country that it is to be controlled by the criminal classes with whom Mr. Hill has long made his political bed in New York city. In the West machine politics are in disrepute, and are continually getting hard knocks.

But what if some Republican paper in New York should call Mr. Hill "an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue." We fear it would be denounced as guilty of discourtesy and disrespect towards the chief executive of the state.

HOW HILL RUNS THE MACHINE.

Cord Meyer, of Maspeth, L. I., was for several years a member of the Democratic State Committee for the first district, and has served as its Secretary. He went to the late state convention at Syracuse with eight of the twelve Long Island delegates pledged to his re-election. But he is a Cleveland Democrat, and Hill was determined to get rid of him at any cost. So he selected Pat Gleason, the Mayor of Long Island City, to take Meyer's place. Gleason picked up two Long Island Democrats at Syracuse and induced them to enter the convention along with himself as contesting delegates. Neither Gleason nor either of his tools had been named in any caucus or convention; they had come to Syracuse merely as lookers-on. But Hill's Committee on Credentials reported in their favor, and three properly elected and certified delegates were thrown out to make room for these interlopers. Meyer's supporters were by this means reduced to a minority, and Gleason was elected to the State Committee in his place. There was no necessity for this arbitrary action, for Hill was sure of twenty-five of the thirty-four committeemen already. But Gleason, a politician of the most unsavory reputation, was a handy man for Hill's uses, while Meyer's well-known friendship for Cleveland marked him for humiliation and sacrifice. The Democrats of Long Island will settle their account with Hill at the polls. And German Democrats throughout the state, who recognize in Meyer a capable and worthy leader of their forces, are signifying that they have a bone to pick with the Governor also.

ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Hill's Putrescent Ticket — Opposed by a Clean One.

[From the Buffalo Express.]

Gov. Hill and his group of journalistic satellites have an unenviable job before them from now until election day. They will be called on to defend a ticket that stinks of corruption and incompetency and to attack another ticket that savors so strongly of honesty as to make the task of the villifiers a doubly-repugnant one.

A comparison of the Republican and Democratic candidates will give an idea of the burden which the Grand Mogul of the Democratic party in this state is carrying on shoulders that are already weighed down with fears for the owner's political safety.

Gov. Hill has named Frank Rice for Secretary of State. He is the man whom Dick Croker or one of his followers called a "Mugwump Democrat." Tammany did not oppose his nomination solely because he was on the Governor's cut-and-dried ticket. The chiefs had other and more substantial reasons for their objections. They remembered Frank Rice as a man who did not hesitate to make war against one element of his party if his hostility resulted in personal or political aggrandizement. Nor did they forget his work in ousting a fellow-Democrat from his seat in the Assembly. At the head of the other ticket we find the name of John Ingersoll Gilbert. His record in Assembly and Senate speaks for itself. He is obnoxious to no element in his party.

Martin Warren Cooke and Edward Wemple are opposed to each other for Comptroller. On one side is a friend of the people, an enemy of monopoly; on the other, a public servant who was mixed up in a scandal that stinks in the nostrils of honest men. Wemple's official record is his own accuser. The Committee on Appropriations of the last Assembly voiced public sentiment when it declared him guilty of gross negligence in connection with the ceiling business. In this committee were a number of Democrats.

Elliot Danforth is the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer. He is nothing but a Hill heeler. Ira M. Hedges is Danforth's competitor. His war record and his reputation as a careful business man have made him popular with all classes.

That tainted, negligent public servant, Charles F. Tabor, is up again for the Attorney Generalship. He is responsible for the contract under which the ceiling fraud was consummated. His incompetency did not stop at the drafting of that honey-combed instrument. He neglected to take action against Sullivan, Snaith or Andrews until his renomination was in danger. This is the figure head that that brilliant lawyer and clean official, James M. Varnum of New York, is invited to knock down.

There is no choice between the candidates for State Engineer and Surveyor on personal grounds, but William P. VanRensselaer's superiority as a canal expert eminently fits him for the position.

Gov. Hill's organs have resorted to every known means to blacken Judge Haight's record, but their frivolous accusations have acted as boomerangs. The Republican nominee for the Court of Appeals is too well known throughout New York as an able and impartial Judge to be hurt by the slings and arrows of his puny political enemies. His opponent, Denis O'Brien, is known as an unscrupulous politician. He has no legal attainments that commend him to the suffrages of the people

PUBLIC OPINION.

It is unquestionably the duty of the better element of the party to paralyze Hill's "grip" on the party organization.—New York Staats Zeitung, Dem.

There are some indications that Gov. Hill of New York can get his hat on easier than he could just after the Syracuse convention. And still his head is big enough.—Springfield Union.

The Democratic party of this section has no stomach for being led to defeat by an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue simply because he happens to get control of the New York machine.—St. Louis Republic, Dem.

Fremont Cole goes to the rear. Charles T. Saxton comes to the front. That is an epitome of Republican progress and policy this year. Cole is the over smart young Republican Speaker of the last Assembly, who was smirched by the ceiling scandal. Saxton is the author of the ballot-reform bill which his party has made one of its issues.—Buffalo Express.

Penurious New York, with its Irish city government, is still floundering in the slough of selfishness as to what to do in getting the World's Fair located in that foreignized city and paying the cost of the same. It wants somebody else to furnish the funds. Meanwhile Chicago is moving on in the even tenor of her way, collecting millions towards paying the costs of the fair.—Cleveland Leader.

There is a good deal of fluttering in the Democratic ranks lest after all the state should go Republican this fall. The small taxpayers all over the state have discovered that David B. Hill is not their friend. He is "in" with the wholesale liquor men, but the people who work for their living and pay rent and taxes in a small way are "out" with David B. Hill. They say that he is "in the mash."—Saratogian.

The state liquor dealers propose to handle their campaign money themselves this year instead of turning it in to the general state fund. This doesn't suit Hill and his lieutenants, but it emphasizes the fact that the rum power is simply using the state Democracy as a catspaw to serve its own interests. The Democrat who votes the Democratic ticket this year isn't voting for Democracy at all, but for Rumocracy.—Ithaca Journal.

Although those Republicans on the Ceiling Committee who were responsible in a degree for the character of the ceiling contract and the manner in which its provisions were carried out have been made sensible of the displeasure of their party, the Democratic party gives Sheehan no intimation that it likes him the less for anything he has done or left undone. A party which has condoned so much in Hill is naturally inclined to be indulgent toward his lieutenants.—Syracuse Standard.

CURRENT HUMOR.

They are talking of John L. Sullivan for congress. He would feel at home when he struck the ayes and noes.

Customer—"How much is that ring?" New jewelry clerk—"It's marked 18c. Eighteen cents, please."

Doctor, to dying patient—"Death does not end all, my dear friend." Dying man—"Right, doctor. You and the undertaker send in your bills after that."

Tailor—"I've stepped around to collect that little bill."

Travers—"Sorry, but I'm short. How would it do for me to order another suit?"

Young man—What do you think I should get, doctor, to get rid of superfluous hair?

Baldheaded Doctor (feeling his polished crown)—Get married, my young friend, get married.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

The early bird catches the bronchitis, and lovers of early morning walks will find this a true maxim. If we were permitted to make a suggestion, we should whisper: "Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney Clay County, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, at well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1, at VanDeusen Bros., Rondout, and F. J. R Carke's Kingston.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J R. Clark.

When you need a good, safe laxative, ask your druggist for a box of Ayer's Pills, and you will find that they give perfect satisfaction. For indigestion torpid liver and sick headache there is nothing superior. Leading physicians recommend them.

Bright teeth, and lips that glow the while,
Give light and color to a smile;
And, infinitely more than this,
Give light and color to a kiss.
But both must suffer from the want
Of the life-giving Sozodont.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by VanDeusen Bros., Rondout, and F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

DYSPEPSIA

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organs, removes the faint feeling, creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. It will do you good.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

100 LADIES WANTED,

And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Children like it. Everyone praises it. Large-size package 50 cents. At all druggists.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

CURE YOURSELF.

Don't pay large doctors' bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent to you on receipt of three 2-cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

They are the only reliable pain-killing plasters known—soothing and strengthening—the Hop Plasters.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that give so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh.

USE SCATTER-CORNS.

Best Corn Killer on Earth; removes Hard or Soft Corns or Bunions in three applications; no pain, soreness or cutting; keeps the feet comfortable; makes walking a pleasure.

Insist on having Scatter-Corns. At druggists, or send 10c. silver for sample by mail.

KASKINE.

THE NEW QUININE.

No Bad Effect, No Headache, No Nausea, No Ringing Ears, Cures Quickly, Pleasant, Pure.

A Powerful Tonic

A Specific for Malaria, Rheumatism, Nervous Prostration.

The most scientific and successful blood purifier. Superior to quinine.

Mr Lode Hoornbeck, of the U. S. Ship Kearsarge, writes that he meets people almost daily that have used and are using Kaskine, and who affirm from experience that it is superior to quinine in tonic and curative properties, and produces no subsequent bad effects.

Mr. John C. Scarborough, Selma, N. C., writes: "I got malaria in the Southern army, and for a dozen years suffered from its debilitating effects. I was terribly run down when I heard of Kaskine, the new quinine. It helped me at once. I gained 35 pounds.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican Electors of the several towns in the County of Ulster and the Wards of the City of Kingston are requested to choose Delegates, as heretofore alloted, to attend a Convention to be held at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, on Thursday, October 17, 1889, at 1: o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating County Officers and choosing Delegates to the Senatorial and Judicial Conventions and for transacting such other business as may be brought forward for consideration. The Town and City Committees are also requested to call the caucuses in their respective towns, districts and wards to select delegates to such County Convention, at such places as they may designate and to give notice thereof in the manner prescribed by the annexed resolution, on the 11th day of October, which is hereby fixed as the day on which such caucuses are to be held. By order of the County Committee.

W. R. SHEFFIELD, Chairman.
A. S. NEWCOMB, Secretary.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the Republican County Convention, held October 3, 1888, and is the resolution referred to in the above call and to which attention of town and city committees is called.

Resolved, That hereafter the County Central Committee issue the call for the County Convention at least thirty days before the time fixed by them for the holding of such Convention; and that in such call they fix the time for the holding of caucuses in the various towns of the County and the wards of the City of Kingston; which time shall be at least five days before the holding of the said County Convention.

Resolved, That the various Town Committees and the City Committee issue the call for caucuses in their respective towns and districts and in the wards of the City, and post the same in at least six public places in said towns and districts or wards at least six days before the holding of such caucuses, which caucuses shall be held at least five days before the meeting of the County Convention.

W. R. SHEFFIELD, Chairman.
A. S. NEWCOMB, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN WARD CAUCUSES.

The Republican electors of the various wards of the City of Kingston are requested to meet in their respective wards as follows: First Ward, Court House; Second Ward, City Hall; Third Ward, Greeley Hall; Fourth Ward, Steimer's Hotel; Fifth Ward, Engine House, Mill street; Sixth Ward, Engine House, Abeel street; Seventh Ward, Engine House, Hone street; Eighth Ward, Engine House, Wilbur; Ninth Ward, Engine House, Clinton avenue, on FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican County Convention, and the First and Second Assembly District Conventions. By order of City Committee.

A DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN REVOLT.

The New York Staats Zeitung, the largest, ablest and most influential German newspaper in the United States, holding rank with the Tribune, World and Sun in politics, and always Democratic, has come out squarely for the defeat of David B. Hill and his "paper mash" ticket. In a recent article it said, beginning with a reference to a communication from one of its regular correspondents:

Our correspondent bestows a few not quite parliamentary epithets upon Mr. Hill, and comes to the conclusion that until the party frees itself from that man's control it is bound to be defeated, and that it had better be defeated now than in 1892, when Hill would secure the Presidential nomination and thereby lead the party to ruin and destruction.

Our correspondent comes certainly quite near the truth, and we have ourselves confessed that we should shed no tears should the Democratic state ticket succumb in the next election. * * His [Governor Hill's] lack of sympathy with reformatory and progressive tendencies, his identification with the ideas of spoils and machine politicians, render him, however, entirely incompetent for the leadership of a party that ought to be thoroughly identified with reformatory principles, so that it is unquestionably the duty of the better elements of the party to paralyze Hill's "grip" on the party organization.

This is not an outburst of Clevelandish spleen, for the Staats Zeitung is not the organ of any leader or clique. It is simply a broad-minded and patriotic newspaper, devoted to the public interests, and always hitherto faithful to the Democratic party. It is not "cranky" on the liquor question; it does not contend that our citizens of German birth or descent hold the right to get drunk and remain eternally drunk to be the highest privilege on earth, as Democratic newspapers are in the habit of contending; neither does it take a position in favor of absolute probibition and the wiping up of the last drop of intoxicating liquor from the face of the globe. It is plain, sensible and practical. It knows a good thing when it sees it, and it also has the discernment to descry a public rascal and the courage to "spot" him. When, therefore, it denounces Hill and calls for his defeat in order to get him out of the way for 1892, it acts upon the dictates of its usual good common sense and judgment. It foresees only evil from the strengthening of Hill's grip upon the party by a Democratic victory this year. It will enable him to use New York to force himself upon the party as its candidate for the Presidency in 1892, when of course it would be defeated.

The Staats Zeitung's objections to Mr. Hill may not go as deep as Republican objections, but they suffice to show the growth of Democratic discontent under the tyranny of his machine. The tainted ticket cannot be elected if the Staats Zeitung advises against it. It is hardly necessary to explain why, save that when the German vote is withdrawn from the Democratic party it shrinks into a hopeless minority. Gov. Hill's attitude towards the German vote has involved the worst insult that could be offered to intelligent and worthy citizens. He has vetoed wholesome laws for the regulation of the liquor traffic, and then said to the German voters: Behold! I have done all this for you!" German voters are getting very tired of being held up as the mainstay and sole reliance of the liquor power. They do not enjoy the false distinction of being regarded as the great drinking and drunken class of the American people. And this shameless misrepresentation of their true character for the basest of political purposes has had a great deal of influence in provoking the Staats Zeitung's revolt against Hill and his putrescent ticket.

WHERE PROPHET HILL IS WITHOUT HONOR.

We quote among "Public Opinion" notes a remark by the Democratic St. Louis Republic to the effect that the Democratic party of the West "has no stomach for being led by an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue, simply because he happens to get control of the New York machine." The St. Louis Republic is the leading Democratic newspaper for all of that section of country lying between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains. Its influence transcends that of any other Democratic newspaper west of the Atlantic cities, not even excepting the Louisville Courier-Journal. It holds the Democratic vote of Missouri in the hollow of its hand. There is therefore a potency in its opposition to Hill and its threats of his annihilation that is not to be lightly thought of.

If Hill is forced upon the ticket, Missouri is therefore likely to become the pivotal state in 1892. Its Democratic majority has been dwindling very rapidly in recent Presidential elections. In 1876 Mr. Tilden carried it by 58,048 plurality. In 1880 Gen. Hancock's plurality was 55,942. In 1884 Mr. Cleveland's plurality was 33,909. In 1888 Cleveland's plurality dropped to 25,717. The Democratic majority upon the total vote of 523,198 was 5,289. A revolt against Hill by such Democrats as dislike his methods, aided by those who are going to insist that the nomination should go West, would suffice to make it a Republican state.

Hill's grip upon the New-York machine will be a dangerous thing to exploit before a national convention. It will be a proclamation to the country that it is to be controlled by the criminal classes with whom Mr. Hill has long made his political bed in New York city. In the West machine politics are in disrepute, and are continually getting hard knocks.

But what if some Republican paper in New York should call Mr. Hill "an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue." We fear it would be denounced as guilty of discourtesy and disrespect towards the chief executive of the state.

HOW HILL RUNS THE MACHINE.

Cord Meyer, of Maspeth, L. I., was for several years a member of the Democratic State Committee for the first district, and has served as its Secretary. He went to the late state convention at Syracuse with eight of the twelve Long Island delegates pledged to his re-election. But he is a Cleveland Democrat, and Hill was determined to get rid of him at any cost. So he selected Pat Gleason, the Mayor of Long Island City, to take Meyer's place. Gleason picked up two Long Island Democrats at Syracuse and induced them to enter the convention along with himself as contesting delegates. Neither Gleason nor either of his tools had been named in any caucus or convention; they had come to Syracuse merely as lookers-on. But Hill's Committee on Credentials reported in their favor, and three properly elected and certified delegates were thrown out to make room for these interlopers. Meyer's supporters were by this means reduced to a minority, and Gleason was elected to the State Committee in his place. There was no necessity for this arbitrary action, for Hill was sure of twenty-five of the thirty-four committemen already. But Gleason, a politician of the most unsavory reputation, was a handy man for Hill's uses, while Meyer's well-known friendship for Cleveland marked him for humiliation and sacrifice. The Democrats of Long Island will settle their account with Hill at the polls. And German Democrats throughout the state, who recognize in Meyer a capable and worthy leader of their forces, are signifying that they have a bone to pick with the Governor also.

ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Hill's Putrescent Ticket — Opposed by a Clean One.

[From the Buffalo Express.]

Gov. Hill and his group of journalistic satellites have an unenviable job before them from now until election day. They will be called on to defend a ticket that stinks of corruption and incompetency and to attack another ticket that savors so strongly of honesty as to make the task of the villifiers a doubly-repugnant one.

A comparison of the Republican and Democratic candidates will give an idea of the burden which the Grand Mogul of the Democratic party in this state is carrying on shoulders that are already weighed down with tears for the owner's political safety.

Gov. Hill has named Frank Rice for Secretary of State. He is the man whom Dick Croker or one of his followers called a "Mugwump Democrat." Tammany did not oppose his nomination solely because he was on the Governor's cut-and-dried ticket. The chiefs had other and more substantial reasons for their objections. They remembered Frank Rice as a man who did not hesitate to make war against one element of his party if his hostility resulted in personal or political aggrandizement. Nor did they forget his work in ousting a fellow-Democrat from his seat in the Assembly. At the head of the other ticket we find the name of John Ingersoll Gilbert. His record in Assembly and Senate speaks for itself. He is obnoxious to no element in his party.

Martin Warren Cooke and Edward Wemple are opposed to each other for Comptroller. On one side is a friend of the people, an enemy of monopoly; on the other, a public servant who was mixed up in a scandal that stinks in the nostrils of honest men. Wemple's official record is his own accuser. The Committee on Appropriations of the last Assembly voiced public sentiment when it declared him guilty of gross negligence in connection with the ceiling business. In this committee were a number of Democrats.

Elliot Danforth is the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer. He is nothing but a Hill heeler. Ira M. Hedges is Danforth's competitor. His war record and his reputation as a careful business man have made him popular with all classes.

That tainted, negligent public servant, Charlas F. Tabor, is up again for the Attorney Generalship. He is responsible for the contract under which the ceiling fraud was consummated. His incompetency did not stop at the drafting of that honey-combed instrument. He neglected to take action against Sullivan, Snaith or Andrews until his renomination was in danger. This is the figure head that that brilliant lawyer and clean official, James M. Varnum of New York, is invited to knock down.

There is no choice between the candidates for State Engineer and Surveyor on personal grounds, but William P. VanRensselaer's superiority as a canal expert eminently fits him for the position.

Gov. Hill's organs have resorted to every known means to blacken Judge Haight's record, but their frivolous accusations have acted as boomerangs. The Republican nominee for the Court of Appeals is too well known throughout New York as an able and impartial Judge to be hurt by the slings and arrows of his puny political enemies. His opponent, Denis O'Brien, is known as an unscrupulous politician. He has no legal attainments that commend him to the suffrages of the people

PUBLIC OPINION.

It is unquestionably the duty of the better element of the party to paralyze Hill's "grip" on the party organization.—New York Staats Zeitung, Dem.

There are some indications that Gov. Hill of New York can get his hat on easier than he could just after the Syracuse convention. And still his head is big enough.—Springfield Union.

The Democratic party of this section has no stomach for being led to defeat by an unprincipled and treacherous demagogue simply because he happens to get control of the New York machine.—St. Louis Republic, Dem.

Fremont Cole goes to the rear. Charles T. Saxton comes to the front. That is an epitome of Republican progress and policy this year. Cole is the over-smart young Republican Speaker of the last Assembly, who was smirched by the ceiling scandal. Saxton is the author of the ballot-reform bill which his party has made one of its issues.—Buffalo Express.

Penurious New York, with its Irish city government, is still floundering in the slough of selfishness as to what to do in getting the World's Fair located in that foreignized city and paying the cost of the same. It wants somebody else to furnish the funds. Meanwhile Chicago is moving on in the even tenor of her way, collecting millions towards paying the costs of the fair.—Cleveland Leader.

There is a good deal of fluttering in the Democratic ranks lest after all the state should go Republican this fall. The small taxpayers all over the state have discovered that David B. Hill is not their friend. He is "in" with the wholesale liquor men, but the people who work for their living and pay rent and taxes in a small way are "out" with David B. Hill. They say that he is "in the mash."—Saratogian.

The state liquor dealers propose to handle their campaign money themselves this year instead of turning it in to the general state fund. This doesn't suit Hill and his lieutenants, but it emphasizes the fact that the rum power is simply using the state Democracy as a catspaw to serve its own interests. The Democrat who votes the Democratic ticket this year isn't voting for Democracy at all, but for Rumocracy.—Ithaca Journal.

Although those Republicans on the Ceiling Committee who were responsible in a degree for the character of the ceiling contract and the manner in which its provisions were carried out have been made sensible of the displeasure of their party, the Democratic party gives Sheehan no intimation that it likes him the less for anything he has done or left undone. A party which has condoned so much in Hill is naturally inclined to be indulgent toward his lieutenants.—Syracuse Standard.

CURRENT HUMOR.

They are talking of John L. Sullivan for congress. He would feel at home when he struck the ayes and noes.

Customer—"How much is that ring?" New jewelry clerk—"It's marked 18c. Eighteen cents, please."

Doctor, to dying patient—"Death does not end all, my dear friend." Dying man—"Right, doctor. You and the undertaker send in your bills after that."

Tailor—"I've stepped around to collect that little bill."

Travers—"Sorry, but I'm short. How would it do for me to order another suit?"

Young man—What do you think I should get, doctor, to get rid of superfluous hair?

Baldheaded Doctor (feeling his polished crown)—Get married, my young friend, get married.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

The early bird catches the bronchitis, and lovers of early morning walks will find this a true maxim. If we were permitted to make a suggestion, we should whisper: "Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney Clay County, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1, at VanDeusen Bros., Rondout, and F. J. R. Carke's Kingston.

They are the only reliable pain-killing plasters known—soothing and strengthening—the Hop Plasters.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that give so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew worse under the prescribed treatment, and the toes and one side of the foot were at length eaten entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound and well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific a most excellent medicine for blood diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison. WM. E. STAGG, M. D.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

For three or four years I had an eating sore on my tongue that made a considerable hole in it. I became alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left. A. LEWIS,

Curious Ideas About Death—A Queer "Find" in Utah—An Extraordinary Bunch of Wheat—Prince Bismarck Described—Electrical Progress in the West, Etc.

The Polish poet, Henryk Sienkiewicz, is making a tour in the Tatra mountains, where he is collecting a store of legends, poems and proverbs from the Galician peasantry. Their stories about death are curiously original. Here is one of the most interesting of them: Once upon a time a farmer went from the Tatra towards Nowytarg, carrying with him his ax and his bore. He had not gone far before an old woman joined him and began to chatter. The farmer quickly recognized that she was no other than Death, who, in the legends of Polish Galicia, is always feminine [Ta Smieve.] He was naturally anxious to get rid of such a dangerous fellow traveler as soon as possible. So he bored a hole in the ground and said: "Look in here!" Death looked in the hole, but could see nothing "You must creep into it," said the peasant. Death went in headforemost. The peasant took advantage of the situation and hastened to fill up the hole. So Death was buried, and he went on his way rejoicing. Nobody died in that whole district for many long years At last Death's grave-digger became so ill and feeble with age that he longed to get out of the world he could no longer enjoy. So he went to Death's grave, restored the old woman to liberty and she gently put an end to his pains.

During the year ending October 1, 1888, nearly 500,000 people in the State of New-York received public aid, varying in amount from a few bushels of coal to the means of support for the entire year. The number in the several classes into which these dependent people are divided, are given as follows in the report of the State Board of Charities for 1889: Insane, 14,772; idiotic and feeble-minded, 1,208; epileptic, 302; blind, 656; dea and dumb, 1,344; orphan and dependent children, 19,717; juvenile delinquents and offenders, 4,678; reformatory prisoners, 828; disabled soldiers and sailors, 1,061; hospital patients, 3,686; adult persons in corporated homes and asylums, 6,560; poorhouse and almshouse inmates, other than above classes, 9,510; outdoor patients to whom dispensaries and hospitals of the State have extended medical or surgical relief, 385,522; outdoor poor relieved by cities and counties of the State, 48,950, a total of 498,804. The expenditure is about $13,000,000.

"Prince Bismarck," says a correspondent, "is in appearance now a feeble old man. His face is waxen and flabby, and his hands are those of a very old man—yellow and swollen in the joints and marked with unnaturally big blue veins. He is once more becoming very fat abdominally, and Dr. Schweninger is at his wit's end to keep this flesh down, for Bismarck is no longer able to walk much. To please his physician, he tries from time to time, but his legs hurt him too much to make this form of exercise possible. All this tends to depress him, and the further fact that his family have not been a long-lived race serves to deepen his conviction that his days are numbered."

Edwin Randolph, a colored man, was brought up and educated by General E. Burd Grubb. Mrs. Grubb taught him to read, and then the General sent him to school and later to college, where he was graduated with honor. Randolph is now a citizen of Richmond, Va., and a member of the City Council. He is a lawyer by profession and an effective orator. He has come up from Virginia to stump New-Jersey for Grubb. As soon as he heard that Grubb was nominated for Governor the grateful colored man started for the North.

Three herds of what are claimed to be the pure-blooded wild cattle of England are still in existence in that country, and are great objects of interest among stock-growers. These cattle are pure white in color, and yet, notwithstanding there has been no cross-breeding, calves are frequently born of other colors. These are always destroyed so as to maintain the distinguishing characteristics. These cattle are said to be great milkers, and possess many points of value to the dairyman.

The stockholders' meeting of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of Kansas was concluded at Anthony, Kan., yesterday. The Board of Directors for the ensuing year was reduced to nine and elected as follows: Levi S. Gould, Benjamin Dickerman, Henry Wait, H. P. Emmerson and George P. Knapp, of Boston; F. G. The next annual meeting will occur in Indianapolis August 19, 1890.

A Milford farmer recently brought an extraordinary bunch of wheat into Kansas City. It was composed of 32 heads and weighed 15 pounds, or a little less than one-half pound to the head. The straw was five feet and two inches in length and very heavy. One of the heads was shelled out and the naked grains just filled a half-pint cup.

The discovery of a curious ice cave in Ashley Valley, Utah, continues to attract attention. A reporter, who has been to that place, says that in the latter part of August he found in the cave a section of ice 25 feet high and 30 feet thick at the base. A small lake was also discovered. One of the rooms in the cave was 1,200 feet long.

Louisville has released Flannigan.

Twenty thousand people attended the Fairfield County, Ohio, fair last night to witness the races by natural gas light. Probably no more novel scene was ever before presented on a race course. Twenty-foot stand-pipes at short intervals encircled the half mile track and dotted the entire grounds, with larger stand-pipes within the track. The two largest wells in the country, with capacities of 25,000,000 cubic feet and 15,000,000 cubic feet respectively, were turned on to complete the illumination. In the midst of this display W. J. Gordon's famous trotter Guy, without a running mate, attempted to beat its record of 2:10¾, Millard T. Saunders being driver. It could only make 2:24¼, however, which is equivalent to 2:17 on the Cleveland mile track.

In Maryland yesterday J. S. Mitchell broke the world's record with the 16 pound hammer, from a seven-foot circle. He reached the distance of 133 feet and eight inches. Fashion Notes.

Velvet and mousselaine de soie will be fashionable combinations for short dresses for the opera the coming season. In models for these the velvet forms a Directoire coat with half-low, rounding neck and a skirt of slender tabs, quite separate, yet as long as the full mousselaine de soie skirt beneath it, which it falls upon without concealing. Other models are made up in like fashion with tulle, this textile forming a full-gathered front between the revers of the coat, and there are no sleeves unless folds or high soft puffs are set upon the shoulders. A green velvet Directoire coat is over a peach blossom pink tulle skirt, golden-brown velvet over pale Venetian blue tulle, and a very effective black velvet coat over black and white silk lace. Velvet bodices in Spanish style are again worn over skirts of diaphanous material, the tops of the velvet being turned over in revers, rendering them semi-low. The neck is filled in with tulle, which is also continued down the middle of the front in tucks or surplice folds. Trained velvet dresses are shown with the train and back forms only in velvet, the fronts with a folded blouse effect in armure silk, Bengaline, or crepe de Chine, an embroidered girdle at the belt and straight front panel breadths, richly embroidered at the foot, these opening narrowly over lace petticoats.

The combination of black and white in the new "Louise" ties to wear with tea-gowns is effective. Some of these shoes have a slender black toe-piece, with sides and fronts of white velvety-looking undressed kid; others have the tips in white overlaid with black kid in cut-work, the rest of the shoe being black. Worn properly with black silk stockings, they seem to consist only of the pretty toe-piece, making them dainty-looking.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind-colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Distress after eating, heartburn, sick headache and indigestion are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It also creates a good appetite.

Professor Gauthier, of Paris, states that certain vital processes of the body develop putrefying substances in the tissues, which, if not speedily eliminated, produce disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effects the removal of these substances, and thereby preserves health.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

HOW REPULSIVE

Is bad breath, and yet how many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends with the foul odor of their breath. If there was no remedy for this it might excite our sympathy, but as there is no need of having a foul breath, it is an unpardonable breach of good manners to obtrude such an offence on good society.

Foul breath arises from disordered digestion which can be corrected by using Sulphur Bitters, and the result will be a pure, sweet breath.

The universal use of them proves their merits. Hop Plasters, clean, safe effective against pain.

FORCED TO LEAVE HOME.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated, and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew worse under the prescribed treatment, and the toes and one side of the foot were at length eaten entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound and well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific a most excellent medicine for blood diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison. WM. E. STAGG, M. D. Matherville, Miss.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

For three or four years I had an eating sore on my tongue that made a considerable hole in it. I became alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left. A. LEWIS, Thomaston, Ga., Mar. 14, '89.

Curious Ideas About Death—A Queer "Find" in Utah—An Extraordinary Bunch of Wheat—Prince Bismarck Described—Electrical Progress in the West, Etc.

The Polish poet, Henryk Sienkiewicz, is making a tour in the Tatra mountains, where he is collecting a store of legends, poems and proverbs from the Galician peasantry. Their stories about death are curiously original. Here is one of the most interesting of them: Once upon a time a farmer went from the Tatra towards Nowytarg, carrying with him his ax and his bore. He had not gone far before an old woman joined him and began to chatter. The farmer quickly recognized that she was no other than Death, who, in the legends of Polish Galicia, is always feminine [Ta Smieve.] He was naturally anxious to get rid of such a dangerous fellow traveler as soon as possible. So he bored a hole in the ground and said: "Look in here!" Death looked in the hole, but could see nothing "You must creep into it," said the peasant. Death went in headforemost. The peasant took advantage of the situation and hastened to fill up the hole. So Death was buried, and he went on his way rejoicing. Nobody died in that whole district for many long years. At last Death's grave-digger became so ill and feeble with age that he longed to get out of the world he could no longer enjoy. So he went to Death's grave, restored the old woman to liberty and she gently put an end to his pains.

During the year ending October 1, 1888, nearly 500,000 people in the State of New-York received public aid, varying in amount from a few bushels of coal to the means of support for the entire year. The number in the several classes into which these dependent people are divided, are given as follows in the report of the State Board of Charities for 1889: Insane, 14,772; idiotic and feeble-minded, 1,208; epileptic, 302; blind, 656; deaf and dumb, 1,344; orphan and dependent children, 19,717; juvenile delinquents and offenders, 4,678; reformatory prisoners, 828; disabled soldiers and sailors, 1,061; hospital patients, 3,686; adult persons in corporated homes and asylums, 6,560; poorhouse and almshouse inmates, other than above classes, 9,510; outdoor patients to whom dispensaries and hospitals of the State have extended medical or surgical relief, 385,522; outdoor poor relieved by cities and counties of the State, 48,950, a total of 498,804. The expenditure is about $13,000,000.

"Prince Bismarck," says a correspondent, "is in appearance now a feeble old man. His face is waxen and flabby, and his hands are those of a very old man—yellow and swollen in the joints and marked with unnaturally big blue veins. He is once more becoming very fat abdominally, and Dr. Schweninger is at his wit's end to keep this flesh down, for Bismarck is no longer able to walk much. To please his physician, he tries from time to time, but his legs hurt him too much to make this form of exercise possible. All this tends to depress him, and the further fact that his family have not been a long-lived race serves to deepen his conviction that his days are numbered."

Edwin Randolph, a colored man, was brought up and educated by General E. Burd Grubb. Mrs. Grubb taught him to read, and then the General sent him to school and later to college, where he was graduated with honor. Randolph is now a citizen of Richmond, Va., and a member of the City Council. He is a lawyer by profession and an effective orator. He has come up from Virginia to stump New Jersey for Grubb. As soon as he heard that Grubb was nominated for Governor the grateful colored man started for the North.

Three herds of what are claimed to be the pure-blooded wild cattle of England are still in existence in that country, and are great objects of interest among stock-growers. These cattle are pure white in color, and yet, notwithstanding there has been no cross-breeding, calves are frequently born of other colors. These are always destroyed so as to maintain the distinguishing characteristics. These cattle are said to be great milkers, and possess many points of value to the dairyman.

The stockholders' meeting of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of Kansas was concluded at Anthony, Kan., yesterday. The Board of Directors for the ensuing year was reduced to nine and elected as follows: Levi S. Gould, Benjamin Dickerman, Henry Wait, H. P. Emmerson and George P. Knapp, of Boston; F. G. Hobson, of Norristown, Penn.; J. K. Wilson, S. A. Darrough and J. M. Russell, of Anthony.

At a recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Professor G. L. Goodale, of Harvard University, was elected President; Professor F. W. Putnam, Permanent Secretary; Professor H. C. Bolton, of New-York, General Secretary, with eight Vice Presidents and as many Secretaries for the sections. The next annual meeting will occur in Indianapolis August 19, 1890.

A Milford farmer recently brought an extraordinary bunch of wheat into Kansas City. It was composed of 32 heads and weighed 15 pounds, or a little less than one-half pound to the head. The straw was five feet and two inches in length and very heavy. One of the heads was shelled out and the naked grains just filled a half-pint cup.

The discovery of a curious ice cave in Ashley Valley, Utah, continues to attract attention. A reporter, who has been to that place, says that in the latter part of August he found in the cave a section of ice 25 feet high and 30 feet thick at the base. A small lake was also discovered. One of the rooms in the cave was 1,200 feet long.

The application of the Trustees of the Erie County, N. Y., Savings Bank for permission to expend $1,000,000 in the purchase of the First Church property in Buffalo, and the erection and furnishing of a banking house thereon, was granted yesterday by Acting Superintendent Charles R. Hall, of the Banking Department.

Cleveland can now be called properly the Electric City of the West. In a short time there will be over 100 electric street cars running over the principal streets of Cleveland, besides a large number of stationary electric motors in use in a great many varied industries throughout the City.

The Congregational Council opened its second day's session at Worcester, Mass., yesterday with devotional exercises. The Rev. A. Hazen, of Auburndale, was elected Secretary for the three years, the Rev. T. B. Forbes was elected Treasurer, and T. N. Camp, of New-Britain, Auditor.

The Woman's Congress at Denver, Col., yesterday elected Julia Ward Howe, of Rhode Island, President; Isabel Howland, New-York, Secretary; Henrietta Wolcott, Massachusetts, Treasurer; Sophia Hoffman, New-York, and Charlotte Pierce, Pennsylvania, Auditors.

A timely discovery of fire in the cellar of the tenement house, the Alfradoes, No. 1,366 Avenue A, New-York City, yesterday, prevented loss of life. Incendiaries had saturated boxes of straw, the stairways and piles of clothing with kerosene. No arrests were made.

E. W. Abbott, an officer at the Massachusetts Reformatory, owns the largest dog in the country. It is of lion breed of mastiffs, weighs 182 pounds, is 33 inches high and 6 feet 11 inches in length.

The General Committee of the 1892 Exposition adopted the reports of the Finance and Site Committees yesterday and formally inaugurated the further work of preparing for the fair.

Partridges are worth from $1 to $1.25 per pair, woodcock 75 to 90 cents; wild ducks, canvas back, $2.50 to $2 per pair; mallard, 60 to 75 cents, in the New-York City markets.

The Superintendent of the Census estimates the population of the United States at 65,000,000. He thinks there are 50,000,000 in the cities and villages, and 8,000,000 Negroes.

W. H. Vanderbilt, of the Yale class of '93, is a son of Cornelius Vanderbilt. He has been elected captain of the Freshman crew and has subscribed $100 to the same.

At another meeting of the Board of Electrical Control held yesterday Mayor Grant repeated that imperfectly insulated wires should not be used.

Ex-President Cleveland and J. Proctor Knott eulogized "Sunset" Cox before a large audience at Cooper Union New-York City, last night.

The fifteenth annual examination of graduates of the schoolship St. Mary's yesterday resulted in the usual number of prize winners.

Serious accusations have been made against the officers of the lost steamer Geographique by cattlemen who were rescued from it.

John Clark, a Captain of a sand schooner, yesterday shot and killed James Corey, who had whipped him in a bar-room fight.

A large missionary meeting, held last evening in New-York City by Episcopalians was addressed by Philip Brooks and others.

Six survivors of the Navassa riot were landed at Philadelphia by the steamer Dorian from Kingston, Jamaica, yesterday.

General E. Burd Grubb, Leon Abbott and Governor Biggs, of Delaware, were at the Mt. Holly, N. J., fair yesterday.

Viscount Cranbrook, Lord President of the British Privy Council is about to retire from the Cabinet, owing to ill health.

It is said 3,000 men are killed and 20,000 injured every year in the discharge of their duties as railroad employes.

The International Congress delegates visited Meriden and New-Haven on their sight-seeing tour yesterday.

George W. Moss, a machinist of Wilkesbarre, Penn., shot and killed his wife last evening.

The Sultan of Morocco departed from Tangier to-day for Fez.

SPORTS OF THE DAY PARAGRAPHED

Items of Interest in Relation to Base Ball And Other Matters.

At Morris Park yesterday Dwyer Brothers' Kingston and R. McKane's Cracksman ran one of the most exciting dead heats of the season. Kingston carried 16 pounds more than Cracksman. The winners were Walter Gratz's Blue Rock, Dwyer Brothers' June Day, S. S. Brown's Buddhist, W. C. Daly's Bronzamarte and G. B. Martin's King Idle.

The winners at Jerome Park yesterday were A. Belmont's Raceland, O. Brown's Belle d'Or, Chicago Stable's Robespierre, F. Gebhard's Volunteer, C. E. Rand's Refund and Dwyer Brothers' Brussels.

This afternoon Belle Hamlin and Harry Wilkes are trotting for a purse of $5,000 at Fleetwood Park.

Result of yesterday's ball games: American Association—At Baltimore—Brooklyn 7, Baltimore 2. At Louisville—St. Louis 9, Louisville 1. At Cincinnati—Cincinnati 8, Kansas City 2. At Columbus—Columbus 5, Athletics 0.

The following is the standing of the clubs in the American Association up to date:

Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	P.Ct.	Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	P.Ct.
Brooklyn	91	43	.679	Baltimore	70	61	.534
St. Louis	88	44	.657	Columbus	58	61	.433
Athletic	72	58	.554	Kansas City	53	81	.396
Cincinnati	74	61	.548	Louisville	26	108	.194

Baldwin distinguished himself in the box yesterday. It was owing to his effective pitching that the Athletics were prevented from scoring.

Louisville has released Flannigan.

Twenty thousand people attended the Fairfield County, Ohio, fair last night to witness the races by natural gas light. Probably no more novel scene was ever before presented on a race course. Twenty-foot stand-pipes at short intervals encircled the half mile track and dotted the entire grounds, with larger stand-pipes within the track. The two largest wells in the country, with capacities of 25,000,000 cubic feet and 15,000,000 cubic feet respectively, were turned on to complete the illumination. In the midst of this display W. J. Gordon's famous trotter Guy, without a running mate, attempted to beat its record of 2:10¾, Millard T. Saunders being driver. It could only make 2:24¼, however, which is equivalent to 2:17 on the Cleveland mile track.

In Maryland yesterday J. S. Mitchell broke the world's record with the 16 pound hammer, from a seven-foot circle. He reached the distance of 133 feet and eight inches. He also came within four and a half inches of equalling the world's record for throwing the 56-pound weight from a seven-foot circle.

E. H. Pelling, a member of the London Athletic Club, has beaten the best amateur record—19 4-5 seconds—in a 300-yard handicap race. He made the distance in 19 3-5 seconds.

General Musical Notes.

The concert season was opened in Brooklyn on Wednesday evening with the Thomas Testimonial Concert, for which a "request programme," determined by popular vote, had been arranged. It included the overtures to "Tannhauser" and "William Tell," Liszt's Hungarian Fantasia, Schumann's "Traumerei," the andante from the Fifth Symphony, a Strauss waltz, and Meyerbeer's first Torchlight March. Joseffy played Chopin's Berceuse, a valse of his own, and a Schubert march.

Emperor William bestowed the large golden medal for art and sciences on Mme. Schumann on the occasion of her seventieth birthday, on September 13. She married Schumann in 1840, and has survived her husband for 33 years, which she devoted mainly to the popularizing of his works by teaching and playing in public.

The receipts at the Paris Opera for August, thanks to the Exhibition, amounted to $92,000, which is considered the largest sum ever taken in at any European Opera House in one month.

Richard Strauss has composed a symphonic poem, "Don Juan," inspired by Lenau's Faust. He is at present conductor at the Weimar Opera.

New-York City Briefs.

The ninety-ninth anniversary of the birth of Father Mathew was observed yesterday by the Father Mathew Memorial Society. In the evening the Rev. Walter Elliott, C. S. P., delivered a lecture on "The Saloon," at Paulist Hall, in West-Sixteenth-street, the proceeds of which will go to the Father Mathew statue fund. The society hopes to raise enough money to enable it on the centennial of his birth, October 10, 1890, to unveil a monument to his memory in Central Park.

Chief Engineer A. G. Menocal, of the Nicaragua Canal Company, sailed on the Aguan yesterday for Greytown, with 28 engineers and a lot of supplies. Hiram Hitchcock, President of the Company, gave a farewell dinner to Mr. Menocal before he started.

A Fashionable Wedding in Dutchess County—New Principal Selected for the State Normal School at Albany—Sunday Prize Fights at Poughkeepsie—Accident, Etc.

The Rev. D. S. Hamilton, of Christ Church, Williamsport, Penn., and Miss Jennie D. Sutherland, of Stanford, were married at Pine Plains, Dutchess County, yesterday. The Right Rev. C. F. Knight, Bishop of Milwaukee, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. E. J. Blaisley, of Antrim, Penn., and the Rev. F. E. Shober, of Barrytown. Misses Blanche and Sarah Sutherland, sisters of the bride, were her maids, and the Rev. E. P. Miller, of Hudson, acted as best man.

Fashion Notes.

Velvet and mousselaine de soie will be fashionable combinations for short dresses for the opera the coming season. In models for these the velvet forms a Directoire coat with half-low, rounding neck and a skirt of slender tabs, quite separate, yet as long as the full mousselaine de soie skirt beneath it, which it falls upon without concealing. Other models are made up in like fashion with tulle, this textile forming a full-gathered front between the revers of the coat, and there are no sleeves unless folds or high soft puffs are set upon the shoulders. A green velvet Directoire coat is over a peach blossom pink tulle skirt, golden-brown velvet over pale Venetian blue tulle, and a very effective black velvet coat over black and white silk lace. Velvet bodices in Spanish style are again worn over skirts of diaphanous material, the tops of the velvet being turned over in revers, rendering them semi-low. The neck is filled in with tulle, which is also continued down the middle of the front in tucks or surplice folds. Trained velvet dresses are shown with the train and back forms only in velvet, the fronts with a folded blouse effect in armure silk, Bengaline, or crepe de Chine, an embroidered girdle at the belt and straight front panel breadths, richly embroidered at the foot, these opening narrowly over lace petticoats.

The combination of black and white in the new "Louise" ties to wear with tea-gowns is effective. Some of these shoes have a slender black toe-piece, with sides and fronts of white velvety-looking undressed kid; others have the tips in white overlaid with black kid in cut-work, the rest of the shoe being black. Worn properly with black silk stockings, they seem to consist only of the pretty toe-piece, making them dainty-looking.

How Some Church Folks Enjoy Themselves.

The members of the ladies' aid societies of the Wurts-Street Presbyterian and St. James M. E. Churches will make excursions to New-York City on October 15 on the steamboats Mary Powell and James W. Baldwin respectively.

ARE YOU MADE miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

IS CONSUMPTION INCURABLE?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at VanDeusen Brothers, Rondout, and F. J. R. Clark's, Kingston Drug Stores.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind-colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Distress after eating, heartburn, sick headache and indigestion are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It also creates a good appetite.

Professor Gauthier, of Paris, states that certain vital processes of the body develop putrefying substances in the tissues, which, if not speedily eliminated, produce disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effects the removal of these substances, and thereby preserves health.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

HOW REPULSIVE

Is bad breath, and yet how many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends with the foul odor of their breath. If there was no remedy for this it might excite our sympathy, but as there is no need of having a foul breath, it is an unpardonable breach of good manners to obtrude such an offence on good society.

Foul breath arises from disordered digestion which can be corrected by using Sulphur Bitters, and the result will be a pure, sweet breath.

The universal use of them proves their merits. Hop Plasters, clean, safe effective against pain.

FORCED TO LEAVE HOME.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated, and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew worse under the prescribed treatment, and the toes and one side of the foot were at length eaten entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound and well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific a most excellent medicine for blood diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison. WM. E. STAGG, M. D.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

For three or four years I had an eating sore on my tongue that made a considerable hole in it. I became alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left. A. LEWIS,

Curious Ideas About Death—A Queer "Find" in Utah—An Extraordinary Bunch of Wheat—Prince Bismarck Described—Electrical Progress in the West, Etc.

The Polish poet, Henryk Sienkiewicz, is making a tour in the Tatra mountains, where he is collecting a store of legends, poems and proverbs from the Galician peasantry. Their stories about death are curiously original. Here is one of the most interesting of them: Once upon a time a farmer went from the Tatra towards Nowytarg, carrying with him his ax and his bore. He had not gone far before an old woman joined him and began to chatter. The farmer quickly recognized that she was no other than Death, who, in the legends of Polish Galicia, is always feminine [Ta Smieve.] He was naturally anxious to get rid of such a dangerous fellow traveler as soon as possible. So he bored a hole in the ground and said: "Look in here!" Death looked in the hole, but could see nothing "You must creep into it," said the peasant. Death went in headforemost. The peasant took advantage of the situation and hastened to fill up the hole. So Death was buried, and he went on his way rejoicing. Nobody died in that whole district for many long years At last Death's grave-digger became so ill and feeble with age that he longed to get out of the world he could no longer enjoy. So he went to Death's grave, restored the old woman to liberty and she gently put an end to his pains.

During the year ending October 1, 1888, nearly 500,000 people in the State of New-York received public aid, varying in amount from a few bushels of coal to the means of support for the entire year. The number in the several classes into which these dependent people are divided, are given as follows in the report of the State Board of Charities for 1889: Insane, 14,772; idiotic and feeble-minded, 1,208; epileptic, 302; blind, 656; dea and dumb, 1,344; orphan and dependent children, 19,717; juvenile delinquents and offenders, 4,678; reformatory prisoners, 828; disabled soldiers and sailors, 1,061; hospital patients, 3,686; adult persons in corporated homes and asylums, 6,560; poorhouse and almshouse inmates, other than above classes, 9,510; outdoor patients to whom dispensaries and hospitals of the State have extended medical or surgical relief, 385,522; outdoor poor relieved by cities and counties of the State, 48,950, a total of 498,804. The expenditure is about $13,000,000.

"Prince Bismarck," says a correspondent, "is in appearance now a feeble old man. His face is waxen and flabby, and his hands are those of a very old man—yellow and swollen in the joints and marked with unnaturally big blue veins. He is once more becoming very fat abdominally, and Dr. Schweninger is at his wit's end to keep this flesh down, for Bismarck is no longer able to walk much. To please his physician, he tries from time to time, but his legs hurt him too much to make this form of exercise possible. All this tends to depress him, and the further fact that his family have not been a long-lived race serves to deepen his conviction that his days are numbered."

Edwin Randolph, a colored man, was brought up and educated by General E. Burd Grubb. Mrs. Grubb taught him to read, and then the General sent him to school and later to college, where he was graduated with honor. Randolph is now a citizen of Richmond, Va., and a member of the City Council. He is a lawyer by profession and an effective orator. He has come up from Virginia to stump New-Jersey for Grubb. As soon as he heard that Grubb was nominated for Governor the grateful colored man started for the North.

Three herds of what are claimed to be the pure-blooded wild cattle of England are still in existence in that country, and are great objects of interest among stock-growers. These cattle are pure white in color, and yet, notwithstanding there has been no cross-breeding, calves are frequently born of other colors. These are always destroyed so as to maintain the distinguishing characteristics. These cattle are said to be great milkers, and possess many points of value to the dairyman.

The stockholders' meeting of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of Kansas was concluded at Anthony, Kan., yesterday. The Board of Directors for the ensuing year was reduced to nine and elected as follows: Levi S. Gould, Benjamin Dickerman, Henry Wait, H. P. Emmerson and George P. Knapp, of Boston; F. G. Baldwin distinguished himself in the box yesterday It was owing to his effective pitching that the Athletics were prevented from scoring.

Louisville has released Flannigan.

Twenty thousand people attended the Fairfield County, Ohio, fair last night to witness the races by natural gas light. Probably no more novel scene was ever before presented on a race course. Twenty-foot stand-pipes at short intervals encircled the half mile track and dotted the entire grounds, with larger stand-pipes within the track. The two largest wells in the country, with capacities of 25,000,000 cubic feet and 15,000,000 cubic feet respectively, were turned on to complete the illumination. In the midst of this display W. J. Gordon's famous trotter Guy, without a running mate, attempted to beat its record of 2:10¾, Millard T. Saunders being driver. It could only make 2:24½, however, which is equivalent to 2:17 on the Cleveland mile track.

In Maryland yesterday J. S. Mitchell broke the world's record with the 16-pound hammer, from a seven-foot circle. He reached the distance of 133 feet and eight inches. Fashion Notes.

Velvet and mousselaine de soie will be fashionable combinations for short dresses for the opera the coming season. In models for these the velvet forms a Directoire coat with half-low, rounding neck and a skirt of slender tabs, quite separate, yet as long as the full mousselaine de soie skirt beneath it, which it falls upon without concealing. Other models are made up in like fashion with tulle, this textile forming a full-gathered front between the revers of the coat, and there are no sleeves unless folds or high soft puffs are set upon the shoulders. A green velvet Directoire coat is over a peach blossom pink tulle skirt, golden-brown velvet over pale Venetian blue tulle, and a very effective black velvet coat over black and white silk lace. Velvet bodices in Spanish style are again worn over skirts of diaphanous material, the tops of the velvet being turned over in revers, rendering them semi-low. The neck is filled in with tulle, which is also continued down the middle of the front in tucks or surplice folds. Trained velvet dresses are shown with the train and back forms only in velvet, the fronts with a folded blouse effect in armure silk, Bengaline, or crepe de Chine, an embroidered girdle at the belt and straight front panel breadths, richly embroidered at the foot, these opening narrowly over lace petticoats.

The combination of black and white in the new "Louise" ties to wear with tea-gowns is effective. Some of these shoes have a slender black toe-piece, with sides and fronts of white velvety-looking undressed kid; others have the tips in white overlaid with black kid in cut-work, the rest of the shoe being black. Worn properly with black silk stockings, they seem to consist only of the pretty toe-piece, making them dainty-looking.

How Some Church Folks Enjoy Themselves.

The members of the ladies' aid societies of the Wurts-Street Presbyterian and St. James M. E. Churches will make excursions to New-York City on October 15 on the steamboats Mary Powell and James W. Baldwin respectively.

IS CONSUMPTION INCURABLE?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abcess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at VanDeusen Brothers, Rondout, and F. J. R. Clark's, Kingston, Drug Stores.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind-colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Distress after eating, heartburn, sick headache and indigestion are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It also creates a good appetite.

Professor Gauthier, of Paris, States that certain vital processes of the body develop putrefying substances in the tissues, which, if not speedily eliminated, produce disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effects the removal of these substances, and thereby preserves health.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

HOW REPULSIVE

Is bad breath, and yet how many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends with the foul odor of their breath. If there was no remedy for this it might excite our sympathy, but as there is no need of having a foul breath, it is an unpardonable breach of good manners to obtrude such an offence on good society.

Foul breath arises from disordered digestion which can be corrected by using Sulphur Bitters, and the result will be a pure, sweet breath.

The universal use of them proves their merits. Hop Plasters, clean, safe effective against pain.

FORCED TO LEAVE HOME.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated, and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

SICK HEADACHE

The Home Coming of Wiltwyck Hose Company—What a Doctor Says—An Intelligent Horse—Republican Caucuses Will be Held This Evening—Some Deductions, Etc.

As an exercise for developing the chest and strengthening the lungs, great merit is claimed for the following, which is included among the movements of recent systems of physical culture, and is also advocated by leading vocal instructors:

Standing as erect as possible, with shoulders thrown back and chest forward, the arms hanging close to the body, the head up, with lips firmly closed, inhalation is to be taken as slowly as may be; at the same time the extended arms are to be gradually raised, the back of the hands upward until they closely approach each other above the head. The movement should be so regulated that the arms will be extended directly over the head at the moment the lungs are completely filled. This position should be maintained from five to 30 seconds before the reverse process is begun. As the arms are gradually lowered the breath is exhaled slowly, so that the lungs shall be as nearly freed from breath as possible at the time the arms again reach the first position at the side. By these movements the greatest expansion possible is reached, for upon inspiration the weight of the shoulders and pectoral muscles are lifted, allowing the thorax to expand fully, while upon exhalation, in lowering the arms, we utilize the additional force of the pressure upon the upper thorax to render expiration as complete as possible. These deep respirations should be repeated five or six times, and the exercise gone through with several times a day. It is hardly necessary to remark that the clothing must in no way interfere with the exercise. In some cases this exercise is more advantageous when taken lying flat on the back instead of standing. In this position the inspiratory muscles become rapidly strengthened by opposing the additional pressure exerted by the abdominal organs against the expanding lungs. And, on the other hand, expiration is more perfect and full on account of the pressure of these organs.

The members of Wiltwyck Hose Company were so well entertained by Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Middletown, yesterday, that they did not arrive at the Union Depot here until 12:35 o'clock this morning. They were greeted with cheers by Excelsiors and Kingstons and a number of enthusiastic friends. Line was formed and with lighted torches the Wiltwycks were escorted to their engine-house on Fair-street to the music of two brass bands. The parade was finished at 2 o'clock. The Wiltwycks, though tired with their jaunt, marched in good time and step.

A Doctor says: "I think the trouble with people in this country is that they overeat. They don't eat so often as the Frenchman or the Englishman, but when they do eat they usually partake of a large variety of food, and eat it as hurriedly as they possibly can, in order that they may be kept from their business for as little time as possible. In this way they overeat. If they haven't time to sit down and eat an elaborate dinner slowly and carefully, then the best thing they can do is to eat a small, plain meal."

A resident, who is made up somewhat after Mrs. Malaprop's own heart, held a small audience here spell-bound this morning while he related a narrow escape from death which he experienced "once upon a time." "Yes," said he excitedly, "I slipped on a banana skin that lay on the top step of a quarter of-a-mile stair-case, and I never let up till I reached the bottom, where I lit on a sharp knife. I cut the artillery of my right arm and I lost three quarts of blood before the doctor got there."

William U. Mason is the owner of an intelligent horse. When its name is called it will come and put its head in its owner's store-door. One night recently it slipped its halter and went to a portion of the barn where there was a box and two bags of oats. The equine lifted the box lid and ate its fill of grain, and then carried the bags of oats to its stall, where they were found in the morning.

In the Ulster Surrogate's Court the will of Patrick O'Neil, of Hurley, has been admitted to probate. The witnesses were D. J. France and J. E. O'Neil. The will was dated March 12, 1889. In the matter of the judicial settlement of Stephen F. VanValkenbergh, Administrator of Maneten Sax, of Saugerties, the account was rendered and a decree entered.

"Undertakers as a rule," said a citizen, who is in the business, this forenoon, "give a great deal of credit to poor folks and yet they seldom lose anything. Many of this class believe in the superstition in substance that if the funeral expenses of a person are not paid within a specified time that there will be another death in the family."

It is said that the work of improving streets will be stopped in November. Uptown streets in which sewer pipes have been laid are in bad condition. If those streets remain in that condition during the winter people who drive over them will be subjected to inconvenience.

A vein of quicksand 14 feet in depth has been struck by workmen laying the main pipe for the First Ward sewers. As a precaution the sides of the trench dug are planked to prevent the sand and earth from caving in.

A carriage in which a number of Uptown citizens were riding at Middletown yesterday was upset, and the occupants were compelled to crawl out of the carriage windows. No one was injured.

THE DEMISE OF ANDREW M'MULLEN.

He Passed Away at About 6 O'clock this Morning, Aged 54 Years.

Andrew McMullen, who was stricken with paralysis on Monday, died at his home in Sleightburg at about 6 o'clock this morning, aged 54 years. Mr. McMullen was born in Ireland. He came to this country when a young man and settled in the then Village of Rondout. He developed into a shrewd business man. He formed a partnership with the late Morgan Everson in the boat-building business. Their yard was situated near where the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's yard now is. In 1881 he located a yard in Sleightburgh, and introduced the marine railway system of hauling out large vessels there. He built many boats, among them being the propeller Hewitt Boice. In early life Mr. McMullen married Catharine Watson. The issue of this union was 11 children, seven of whom are living. He was a member of the Wurts-Street Presbyterian Church and Rondout Lodge, No. 343, Free and Accepted Masons. He was an exemplary citizen. Mr. McMullan was a Republican. He was elected Alderman from the Seventh Ward in 1878 and 1880. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church. Rondout Lodge of Free Masons will attend. The interment will be in Montrepose Cemetery.

THE SHIPPING NEWS IN THIS VICINITY.

Outgoing and Incoming Tows—Arrivals at Tidewater, Etc.

The boat Little Jennie, loaded with bluestone, sunk in the Hudson River off West Point to day while en route to New-York City in tow of the propeller J. C. Hartt and steamboat Austin. It is believed the boat sprung a leak. The Captain, J. McCool, and deck-hand, were taken aboard another boat in the tow. The Little Jennie had been chartered for the trip by J. Osterhoudt. It left here last night.

There were reported at the Rondout Department of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company to-day the following vessels for cargoes of coal: Four Buffalo boats, 500 tons; barges Palo Alto, 265; J. Hillis, 300; Charles Trott, 425; Bertha Bornt, 155; N. E. T. Company, No 7, 400; sloop Lincoln, 60; schooner Ira Laffanier, 300.

The steamboats McDonald and Oswego, with a tow of 30 vessels, arrived at this port this forenoon. In the tow were the schooners Meyer and Muller, Mabel Hall, Stormy Petrel, Peter C. Schultz and Clarence Miller.

The barge Trott, which is being loaded with coal at the "Island Dock," is supplied with machinery that unloads a cargo of coal quickly.

The steamboat M. Martin, while lying at Coeymans on Wednesday was run into by the steamer "General." The damage was slight.

One of the prettiest steam yachts on the Hudson River is the Marguerite, owned by Lewis H. Livingston, of Rhinebeck.

There arrived at tidewater at Eddyville yesterday 27 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 3,600 tons of coal.

The last trip of the Mary Powell of the season will be made on October 19.

NEW CASES OF DIPHTHERIA REPORTED.

Two Uptown and One Downtown—The Patients are Children.

This forenoon Dr. A. H. Mambert reported a new case of diphtheria in the family of Henry Butler on Post-street. The Health authorities have been notified of two cases Uptown. Both are children—one in the family of Henry W. Otis, on Albany-avenue, and the other in the family of M. Cashin, on Cedar-street. Sanitary Inspector TenBroeck has quarantined the two houses.

This forenoon the Sanitary Inspector visited the premises of six different persons against whom complaints had been made.

Thomas Carman, a son of Isaac Carman, who has been ill with diphtheria, is in a critical condition. Croup has set in.

AN OLD HORSEMAN'S STORY.

RECALLING RACES IN ULSTER COUNTY IN DAYS GONE BY,

When the Nags Were Started to Win Every Time—The Course From the Site of the Albany-Avenue Railroad Bridge to Henry Legg's Place—A Lesson, Etc.

"An old-time horseman said to a reporter of THE FREEMAN to-day: "Fashions change with horses. I remember the time when pacing horses were so out of favor that if a person with a fast pacer passed a trotter on the road the owner would say: 'O, that's only a pacer. Of course I am not expected to beat a running horse,' etc. One reason the pacer received so little consideration was because it was the general understanding that pacing horses lacked 'bottom,' and that however fast they might go for a quarter or a half mile they were not capable of sustaining a steady road pace for a long distance. That this was an erroneous notion was proved by several fast pacers in Ulster County, one of which was owned by John J. Hornbeck. It showed wonderful gamy qualities and 'bottom' that withstood five heats in hard-contested races."

"At the present time pacers are fashionable. And why should they not be favorites? A pacing gait is a pleasant one for a horse either when driven before a light wagon or when used as a saddle horse. The animal is much easier to guide."

"Several fast pacing horses were owned in Ulster County 40 years ago. Little was then known about trotters. It was the pacer or runner for speed. There was a black gelding, James K. Polk, that could pace in 2:26, owned here; and Phœbe Jane, a fast mare, that had a record almost equal to the other. The last named horse was owned by a man in Saugerties. We used to have interesting races. The race-course was the straight road from where the Albany-Avenue Railroad Bridge now is to Henry Legg's place. The road was somewhat sandy, but it made a fair mile course. The starting point was at Henry Legg's, and the finish at the bridge at Sharpe's Burying Ground. I have seen crowds of people line this roadway as far as TenBroeck's. They showed great interest, and when the horses came down side by side the excitement was greater than is known at races now-a-days."

"But when we had horse races it meant the best horse to win. One of the famous track horses was the Pinder pony. I drove it once in a race with James K. Polk. The two horses had paced a match race. The driver of Polk crowded the driver of Pinder, so he could not win. You see he took the advantage of him, knowing that he was timid about knocking spokes out of his sulkey. I saw the whole affair and it made me mad. Money was put up for another race, and I got behind the Pinder pony. I said to the driver: 'I want you to understand that the best horse wins the race. If you crowd me you must take the consequences.' The first heat he found that I could out-foot him, so he pulled across the track. Instead of slowing up, I drove straight away. There was a crash and the splinters flew. He was glad to sheer off, for he was a coward at heart. The next heat he said: 'So you mean it, eh!' 'Yes, I mean it,' I answered, 'and you must take the consequences.' He didn't dare play any more tricks, and I won the two remaining heats. I have forgotten the time made, but it was a fast race—inside the thirties, I think."

"Oh, we had great fun horse-racing these days. There was no pool-selling, but large amounts of money changed hands."

A PLEA IN BEHALF OF GOOD MANNERS.

Do the Public Schools Inculcate all They Could or Should?

The following has been received from Wilbur L. Hale, of this City: "During the present generation there have been great advances made in the opportunities for education. Schools have been established in all sections and communities, and the very best of talent engaged as teachers, and all facilities necessary to learning provided without measure or stint. As a rule scholars have responded fairly well to the opportunities presented, still in many respects they are far from what they should be, one of the greatest deficiencies apparent being in the simple matter of good manners; and assuming that our schools are founded and conducted with the idea of fitting children for useful and successful lives the lack of manners is a very serious objection. With a dozen young people making application for a position, the best mannered is invariably chosen, even though he or she may stand somewhat lower in their studies, or in the per cent. of examination. Well-mannered salesmen or saleswomen are worth more to their employers, because the public learns very quickly the desk or counter at which they will secure the best treatment, and invariably gravitate to that spot. Good-mannered men make their way in politics; and in the professions we invariably call in the most mannerly and pleasant physician or lawyer, even though we may be compelled to admit they are not quite so smart or able as their unmannerly competitors. In clergymen we always expect and look for mannerly treatment, though—save the mark, we sometimes fail to find it, yet the serious, solemn duties we at times require of them are always performed the better—certainly the most pleasantly to us when done in a quiet, mannerly way. We imagine little or no objection can be found in these premises, and, assuming the facts are true, they show clearly that the child who is not instructed in manners is being deprived of one of the most important parts of an education. It is unfortunately true that the parents of some children need education before they can impart it, and to such a school education on those points should be doubly acceptable. It may be—it certainly is claimed by some—that education is a destroyer of reverence. If it be so, it is time—high time—that we get back to some of our old landmarks as speedily as possible. There are a few old customs better than the new, and courtesy is one of them."

The "Old Fashioned Way."

The trial of "Father" Boyle, a disgraced Catholic priest, who is charged with feloniously assaulting a woman, will occur this week at Raleigh. In any large Northern city such a trial would be reported at length in the daily papers, and all the details would be given in full. The North Carolina papers, however, notify their readers in advance that they will devote very little space to the case. They appeal to the judge to exclude from the court room minors and all persons who have no valid reason for being present, and urge the public not to purchase the pamphlet report of the trial, which some enterprising speculator proposes to publish. Now, our Northern contemporaries will laugh at all this, and pronounce it prudish and old-fashioned. It is all right. If it is old-fashioned to insist that the press shall not pander to depraved and licentious tastes, then it is to be hoped that the South will always remain old-fashioned.—Atlanta Constitution.

The "old fashioned" way is the right way, and the number of newspaper proprietors who so hold is increasing daily.

Concerning Friendly Societies.

The degree of Mark Master will be conferred in Mt. Horeb Chapter, R. A. M., on Wednesday evening, October 16.

On Saturday, October 19, Odd Fellows will hold appropriate memorial exercises in honor of deceased members.

A meeting of Kingston Lodge, No. 413, I. O. O. F., will be held this evening.

Journalistic.

The souvenir edition of the Poughkeepsie Eagle has been received. It gives in an attractive form illustrations and descriptions of objects of interest and business enterprises of Poughkeepsie. It is a neat specimen of the art of printing, and from many points of view is a credit to Platt & Platt.

Times Change.

[From the Utica Observer.]

Within the past few years there has been a wonderful growth of manufacturing in many sections of the South, and as this continues it may be that Southern men will become more and more firmly opposed to any revision of the tariff on free-trade lines.

This edition is carefully printed, on good paper, from new plates, in leaded nonpareil type. In form it is a reproduction of the famous "Plum Pudding" edition that sold for $50.00.

The size of the page of type is 4x6½ inches; the outside measurement 5x7½ inches, making a neat pocket volume.

The fifteen volumes contain 5,200 pages, and average about 350 pages each.

The binding is wire stretching of the best quality, and a far superior to that of 50-cent books. If they were sold for $1.00 each, this work could not be better done. The covers are paper, of neat design.

There is nothing common about these books. The very cheapest of the cheap library editions costs five times the price and cannot be compared with this.

No one who sees them can credit the statement that they cost only $1.00, or understand how they can be sold at that price.

CITY HAPPENINGS AND CHAT

BITS OF NEWS, STORIES AND SOME HUMOR AND GOSSIP.

The Home Coming of Wiltwyck Hose Company—What a Doctor Says—An Intelligent Horse—Republican Caucuses Will be Held This Evening—Some Deductions, Etc.

As an exercise for developing the chest and strengthening the lungs, great merit is claimed for the following, which is included among the movements of recent systems of physical culture, and is also advocated by leading vocal instructors:

Standing as erect as possible, with shoulders thrown back and chest forward, the arms hanging close to the body, the head up, with lips firmly closed, inhalation is to be taken as slowly as may be; at the same time the extended arms are to be gradually raised, the back of the hands upward until they closely approach each other above the head. The movement should be so regulated that the arms will be extended directly over the head at the moment the lungs are completely filled. This position should be maintained from five to 30 seconds before the reverse process is begun. As the arms are gradually lowered the breath is exhaled slowly, so that the lungs shall be as nearly freed from breath as possible at the time the arms again reach the first position at the side. By these movements the greatest expansion possible is reached, for upon inspiration the weight of the shoulders and pectoral muscles are lifted, allowing the thorax to expand fully, while upon exhalation, in lowering the arms, we utilize the additional force of the pressure upon the upper thorax to render expiration as complete as possible. These deep respirations should be repeated five or six times, and the exercise gone through with several times a day. It is hardly necessary to remark that the clothing must in no way interfere with the exercise. In some cases this exercise is more advantageous when taken lying flat on the back instead of standing. In this position the inspiratory muscles become rapidly strengthened by opposing the additional pressure exerted by the abdominal organs against the expanding lungs. And, on the other hand, expiration is more perfect and full on account of the pressure of these organs.

The members of Wiltwyck Hose Company were so well entertained by Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Middletown, yesterday, that they did not arrive at the Union Depot here until 12:35 o'clock this morning. They were greeted with cheers by Excelsiors and Kingstons and a number of enthusiastic friends. Line was formed and with lighted torches the Wiltwycks were escorted to their engine-house on Fair-street to the music of two brass bands. The parade was finished at 2 o'clock. The Wiltwycks, though tired with their jaunt, marched in good time and step.

A Doctor says: "I think the trouble with people in this country is that they overeat. They don't eat so often as the Frenchman or the Englishman, but when they do eat they usually partake of a large variety of food, and eat it as hurriedly as they possibly can, in order that they may be kept from their business for as little time as possible. In this way they overeat. If they haven't time to sit down and eat an elaborate dinner slowly and carefully, then the best thing they can do is to eat a small, plain meal."

A resident, who is made up somewhat after Mrs. Malaprop's own heart, held a small audience here spell-bound this morning while he related a narrow escape from death which he experienced "once upon a time." "Yes," said he excitedly, "I slipped on a banana skin that lay on the top step of a quarter of-a-mile stair-case, and I never let up till I reached the bottom, where I lit on a sharp knife. I cut the artillery of my right arm and I lost three quarts of blood before the doctor got there."

William U. Mason is the owner of an intelligent horse. When its name is called it will come and put its head in its owner's store-door. One night recently it slipped its halter and went to a portion of the barn where there was a box and two bags of oats. The equine lifted the box lid and ate its fill of grain, and then carried the bags of oats to its stall, where they were found in the morning.

In the Ulster Surrogate's Court the will of Patrick O'Neil, of Hurley, has been admitted to probate. The witnesses were D. J. France and J. E. O'Neil. The will was dated March 12, 1889. In the matter of the judicial settlement of Stephen F. VanValkenbergh, Administrator of Maneten Sax, of Saugerties, the account was rendered and a decree entered.

"Undertakers as a rule," said a citizen, who is in the business, this forenoon, "give a great deal of credit to poor folks and yet they seldom lose anything. Many of this class believe in the superstition in substance that if the funeral expenses of a person are not paid within a specified time that there will be another death in the family."

It is said that the work of improving streets will be stopped in November. Uptown streets in which sewer pipes have been laid are in bad condition. If those streets remain in that condition during the winter people who drive over them will be subjected to inconvenience.

A vein of quicksand 14 feet in depth has been struck by workmen laying the main pipe for the First Ward sewers. As a precaution the sides of the trench dug are planked to prevent the sand and earth from caving in.

A carriage in which a number of Uptown citizens were riding at Middletown yesterday was upset, and the occupants were compelled to crawl out of the carriage windows. No one was injured.

Children are quick to "pick up" slang. Yesterday a Downtown man resurrected the hat he wore last winter. His four year old girl startled him by singing, "Where did you get that hat."

James Plunkett, of Ponckhockie, rescued a lad from drowning in the Rondout Creek yesterday afternoon. The boy was going down for the third time when Plunkett caught him.

James Linsey was arraigned before Recorder Hussey this forenoon charged with assault. He asked for an extension of time, and the case was adjourned until to-morrow.

While William J. Turck was endeavoring to catch a house fly in the window of his office yesterday one of the arteries of his hand was severed by contact with broken glass.

"Have you any news to impart to-day, Mr. Finklesteinman?" "Yah! Put in dot newspaber dot I haf der finest vinter stock of clodings in der Zity, at der lowest gost."

Men who shovel coal at the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's works say they are more liable to "catch" colds and rheumatism now than in mid-summer.

Last night a storekeeper at Flatbush was waylaid by three men and terribly beaten. His assailants are known and will be arrested.

THE DEMISE OF ANDREW M'MULLEN.

He Passed Away at About 6 O'clock this Morning, Aged 54 Years.

Andrew McMullen, who was stricken with paralysis on Monday, died at his home in Sleightburg at about 6 o'clock this morning, aged 54 years. Mr. McMullen was born in Ireland. He came to this country when a young man and settled in the then Village of Rondout. He developed into a shrewd business man. He formed a partnership with the late Morgan Everson in the boat-building business. Their yard was situated near where the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's yard now is. In 1881 he located a yard in Sleightburgh, and introduced the marine railway system of hauling out large vessels there. He built many boats, among them being the propeller Hewitt Bolce. In early life Mr. McMullen married Catharine Watson. The issue of this union was 11 children, seven of whom are living. He was a member of the Wurts-Street Presbyterian Church and Rondout Lodge, No. 343, Free and Accepted Masons. He was an exemplary citizen. Mr. McMullan was a Republican. He was elected Alderman from the Seventh Ward in 1878 and 1880. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church. Rondout Lodge of Free Masons will attend. The interment will be in Montrepose Cemetery.

TIDINGS IN THE CHURCH PORCH.

Items Concerning Pastors, Peoples and Churches Here and in This Vicinity.

At a meeting of members of the congregation of St. John's Church, held at the Rectory on Green street last night, a Parish Guild was organized. The following officers were elected:

Rev. Lewis T. Wattson.....President
John A. Heiser.....Vice-President
Mrs. F. J. R. Clark.....Secretary
Mrs. E. Winter.....Treasurer

D. B. Abbey, of the Wurts Street Presbyterian Church, at the meeting of the North River Presbytery at Salt Point, was appointed a delegate to attend the Synod—an important body—which will be convened in Poughkeepsie next week.

The annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the Second District of New York State will be held at Middletown on October 18, 19 and 20. This City will be represented.

The Rev. Hiram Lamont, of Newburgh, an uncle of the Rev. Thomas Lamont, made an address at the prayer meeting in the Wurts-Street M. E. Church last evening.

A large Episcopal Church will soon be erected at Newburgh.

THE SHIPPING NEWS IN THIS VICINITY.

Outgoing and Incoming Tows—Arrivals at Tidewater, Etc.

The boat Little Jennie, loaded with bluestone, sunk in the Hudson River off West Point to-day while en route to New-York City in tow of the propeller J. C. Hartt and steamboat Austin. It is believed the boat sprung a leak. The Captain, J. McCool, and deck-hand, were taken aboard another boat in the tow. The Little Jennie had been chartered for the trip by J. Osterhoudt. It left here last night.

There were reported at the Rondout Department of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company to-day the following vessels for cargoes of coal: Four Buffalo boats, 500 tons; barges Palo Alto, 265; J. Hillis, 300; Charles Trott, 425; Bertha Borut, 155; N. E. T. Company, No 7, 400; sloop Lincoln, 60; schooner Ira Laffanier, 300.

The steamboats McDonald and Oswego, with a tow of 30 vessels, arrived at this port this forenoon. In the tow were the schooners Meyer and Muller, Mabel Hall, Stormy Petrel, Peter C. Schultz and Clarence Miller.

The barge Trott, which is being loaded with coal at the "Island Dock," is supplied with machinery that unloads a cargo of coal quickly.

The steamboat M. Martin, while lying at Coeymans on Wednesday was run into by the steamer "General." The damage was slight.

One of the prettiest steam yachts on the Hudson River is the Marguerite, owned by Lewis H. Livingston, of Rhinebeck.

There arrived at tidewater at Eddyville yesterday 27 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 3,600 tons of coal.

The last trip of the Mary Powell of the season will be made on October 19.

NEW CASES OF DIPHTHERIA REPORTED.

Two Uptown and One Downtown—The Patients are Children.

This forenoon Dr. A. H. Mambert reported a new case of diphtheria in the family of Henry Butler on Post-street. The Health authorities have been notified of two cases Uptown. Both are children—one in the family of Henry W. Otis, on Albany-avenue, and the other in the family of M. Cashin, on Cedar-street. Sanitary Inspector TenBroeck has quarantined the two houses.

This forenoon the Sanitary Inspector visited the premises of six different persons against whom complaints had been made.

Thomas Carman, a son of Isaac Carman, who has been ill with diphtheria, is in a critical condition. Croup has set in.

Affairs of Local Railroads.

Forty tons of silk were hauled over the New-York, Ontario & Western Railroad the other day from Japan to the Metropolis. It came via Vancouver's Island.

The members of Rondout Commandery who participated in the Knights Templar parade at Washington, have returned.

Michael Lynch, aged 70, was killed on the Erie Railroad tracks at Middletown by being struck by a train on Wednesday.

It is said the block system of signaling will be adopted on the New-York Central & Hudson River Railroad.

Abram Litz, of Port Jervis, an Erie brakeman, was injured while coupling cars at the Summit yesterday.

Teachers to Compare Notes.

The Teachers' Institute for the Third School Commissioner's District will be held at Shokan next week. Professor A. P. Chapin will be Conductor. On Tuesday night Professor Cheney will deliver a lecture on the subject "The Basis of Success." Mrs. M. E. Van Wagonen will give exercises in drawing.

By a Decree of the Surrogate.

Peter J. Clare, of the town of Ulster, was arrested to-day on a warrant issued under a decree in Ulster Surrogate's Court directing him to pay $2,270 58 as General Guardian of infants named Francis and John Clare.

Republican Meetings to be Held.

AN OLD HORSEMAN'S STORY.

RECALLING RACES IN ULSTER COUNTY IN DAYS GONE BY,

When the Nags Were Started to Win Every Time—The Course From the Site of the Albany-Avenue Railroad Bridge to Henry Legg's Place—A Lesson, Etc.

"An old-time horseman said to a reporter of THE FREEMAN to-day: "Fashions change with horses. I remember the time when pacing horses were so out of favor that if a person with a fast pacer passed a trotter on the road the owner would say: 'O, that's only a pacer. Of course I am not expected to beat a running horse,' etc. One reason the pacer received so little consideration was because it was the general understanding that pacing horses lacked 'bottom,' and that however fast they might go for a quarter or a half mile they were not capable of sustaining a steady road pace for a long distance. That this was an erroneous notion was proved by several fast pacers in Ulster County, one of which was owned by John J. Hornbeck. It showed wonderful gamy qualities and 'bottom' that withstood five heats in hard-contested races."

"At the present time pacers are fashionable. And why should they not be favorites? A pacing gait is a pleasant one for a horse either when driven before a light wagon or when used as a saddle horse. The animal is much easier to guide."

"Several fast pacing horses were owned in Ulster County 40 years ago. Little was then known about trotters. It was the pacer or runner for speed. There was a black gelding, James K. Polk, that could pace in 2:26, owned here; and Phœbe Jane, a fast mare, that had a record almost equal to the other. The last named horse was owned by a man in Saugerties. We used to have interesting races. The race-course was the straight road from where the Albany-Avenue Railroad Bridge now is to Henry Legg's place. The road was somewhat sandy, but it made a fair mile course. The starting point was at Henry Legg's, and the finish at the bridge at Sharpe's Burying Ground. I have seen crowds of people line this roadway as far as TenBroeck's. They showed great interest, and when the horses came down side by side the excitement was greater than is known at races now-a-days."

"But when we had horse races it meant the best horse to win. One of the famous track horses was the Pinder pony. I drove it once in a race with James K. Polk. The two horses had paced a match race. The driver of Polk crowded the driver of Pinder, so he could not win. You see he took the advantage of him, knowing that he was timid about knocking spokes out of his sulkey. I saw the whole affair and it made me mad. Money was put up for another race, and I got behind the Pinder pony. I said to the driver: 'I want you to understand that the best horse wins the race. If you crowd me you must take the consequences.' The first heat he found that I could out-foot him, so he pulled across the track. Instead of slowing up, I drove straight away. There was a crash and the splinters flew. He was glad to sheer off, for he was a coward at heart. The next heat he said: 'So you mean it, eh!' 'Yes, I mean it,' I answered, 'and you must take the consequences.' He didn't dare play any more tricks, and I won the two remaining heats. I have forgotten the time made, but it was a fast race—inside the thirties, I think."

"Oh, we had great fun horse-racing those days. There was no pool-selling, but large amounts of money changed hands."

A PLEA IN BEHALF OF GOOD MANNERS.

Do the Public Schools Inculcate all They Could or Should?

The following has been received from Wilbur L. Hale, of this City: "During the present generation there have been great advances made in the opportunities for education. Schools have been established in all sections and communities, and the very best of talent engaged as teachers, and all facilities necessary to learning provided without measure or stint. As a rule scholars have responded fairly well to the opportunities presented, still in many respects they are far from what they should be, one of the greatest deficiencies apparent being in the simple matter of good manners; and assuming that our schools are founded and conducted with the idea of fitting children for useful and successful lives the lack of manners is a very serious objection. With a dozen young people making application for a position, the best mannered is invariably chosen, even though he or she may stand somewhat lower in their studies, or in the per cent. of examination. Well-mannered salesmen or saleswomen are worth more to their employers, because the public learns very quickly the desk or counter at which they will secure the best treatment, and invariably gravitate to that spot. Good-mannered men make their way in politics; and in the professions we invariably call in the most mannerly and pleasant physician or lawyer, even though we may be compelled to admit they are not quite so smart or able as their untamnerly competitors. In clergymen we always expect and look for mannerly treatment, though—save the mark, we sometimes fail to find it, yet the serious, solemn duties we at times require of them are always performed the better—certainly the most pleasantly to us when done in a quiet, mannerly way. We imagine little or no objection can be found in these premises, and, assuming the facts are true, they show clearly that the child who is not instructed in manners is being deprived of one of the most important parts of an education. It is unfortunately true that the parents of some children need education before they can impart it, and to such a school education on those points should be doubly acceptable. It may be—it certainly is claimed by some—that education is a destroyer of reverence. If it be so, it is time—high time—that we get back to some of our old landmarks as speedily as possible. There are a few old customs better than the new, and courtesy is one of them."

The "Old Fashioned Way."

The trial of "Father" Boyle, a disgraced Catholic priest, who is charged with feloniously assaulting a woman, will occur this week at Raleigh. In any large Northern city such a trial would be reported at length in the daily papers, and all the details would be given in full. The North Carolina papers, however, notify their readers in advance that they will devote very little space to the case. They appeal to the judge to exclude from the court room minors and all persons who have no valid reason for being present, and urge the public not to purchase the pamphlet report of the trial, which some enterprising speculator proposes to publish. Now, our Northern contemporaries will laugh at all this, and pronounce it prudish and old-fashioned. It is all right. If it is old-fashioned to insist that the press shall not pander to depraved and licentious tastes, then it is to be hoped that the South will always remain old-fashioned.—Atlanta Constitution.

The "old fashioned" way is the right way, and the number of newspaper proprietors who so hold is increasing daily.

Concerning Friendly Societies.

The degree of Mark Master will be conferred in Mt. Horeb Chapter, R. A. M., on Wednesday evening, October 16.

On Saturday, October 19, Odd Fellows will hold appropriate memorial exercises in honor of deceased members.

A meeting of Kingston Lodge, No. 413, I. O. O. F., will be held this evening.

Journalistic.

The souvenir edition of the Poughkeepsie Eagle has been received. It gives in an attractive form illustrations and descriptions of objects of interest and business enterprises of Poughkeepsie. It is a neat specimen of the art of printing, and from many points of view is a credit to Platt & Platt.

Times Change.

[From the Utica Observer.]

Within the past few years there has been a wonderful growth of manufacturing in many sections of the South, and as this continues it may be that Southern men will become more and more firmly opposed to any revision of the tariff on free-trade lines.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

YES, YES, WE ARE MAKING Molasses Cream Bar and everything else that can be found in a first-class confectionery. Just peep into our window and see, 29 Union-avenue. F. M. BARTH.

LOW RATE TRIP TO NEW-YORK CITY. The West Shore Railroad has arranged for a special low rate excursion to the Metropolis from Troy, Albany and points on its Hudson River division, on Friday, October 18. The round trip rate will be $2.25. Special train will leave Kingston at 11:55 A. M. Tickets will be good returning by regular trains until Monday, October 21. This will be a splendid opportunity to visit the Metropolis, either for business or pleasure, as the rate is low, and a liberal return limit has been made on the tickets. Tickets, time tables, and full information can be procured of Ticket Agents West Shore Railroad.

EXCURSION TO NEW-YORK OCTOBER 18TH. The Wallkill Valley Railroad will sell excursion tickets to New-York for the morning train leaving Campbell Hall at 8:50 on October 18th, from all stations on the line, at the rate of $2.50 each for the round trip.

Excursion tickets will be good going only on this train; and will be good returning by all regular trains until October 21st.

This will afford a splendid opportunity for those desiring to visit the Metropolis at little expense. There is no season of the year as pleasant as this in which to see New-York and its many attractions.

MARY POWELL'S CHANGE OF TIME. On and after Thursday, September 19, 1889, steamer Mary Powell will leave Rondout at 6 A. M. Returning will leave Vestry-street, 3:15 P. M.; Twenty-Second-street, 3:30 P. M. On Saturdays will leave one hour earlier. Last trip of the season, Saturday, October 19.

CITY ORDINANCE—AN ORDINANCE FOR THE curbing, guttering and flagging of the sidewalks of a portion of Tompkins-street.

Passed October 4th, 1889.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

Resolved, That the sidewalks of that portion of Tompkins-street between Union-street and Yeomans-street, in said city, shall be constructed in the manner following: The walks shall be curbed with curbstones not less than twenty inches in depth and of the usual thickness, and the gutters shall be laid with gutter stones not less than twelve inches in width, and of the usual thickness; and the sidewalk shall be flagged with flagging stones not less than four feet in width and of the usual thickness.

Resolved, That the improvements required by this ordinance shall be made and completed by the 25th day of November next, and if the same be not made or completed within the time above specified by the owners or occupants of the lands so to be improved, as aforesaid, the work shall be done by the Common Council at the expense of the delinquent owners or occupants respectively.

This ordinance shall be published pursuant to the City Charter, and a copy thereof shall be served on each of said owners or occupants, as a notice to said owners or occupants, this section being intended to be such notice.

I hereby approve the foregoing ordinance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand this 7th day of October, 1889.

CITY ORDINANCE—AN ORDINANCE TO CONstruct a sewer in Holmes-street, between Hone street and Union-avenue.

Passed September 2 th, 1889.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

Resolved, That a sewer be constructed through Holmes-street, from Hone-street to Union-avenue, to connect with the sewer on Union-avenue and at Wurts-street, such sewer to be constructed of vitrified salt glazed sewer pipe, having an internal diameter or not more than ten inches.

Resolved, That such sewer and the necessary inlets, manholes and connections be constructed under the supervision of the Committee on Sewers, the City Engineer and the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers and City Property, and that twenty-five per cent of the cost thereof be paid by a general tax upon the city, and the remaining seventy-five per cent of such cost and expense shall be defrayed by a special assessment upon such portions of the real estate in said city as the Assessors therefor shall deem more immediately benefited by such improvement.

I hereby approve the foregoing ordinance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand this 7th day of October, 1889.

JOHN NEWKIRK, Mayor.

This edition is carefully printed, on good paper, from new plates, in leaded nonpareil type. In form it is a reproduction of the famous "Plum Pudding" edition that sold for $50.00.

The size of the page of type is 4x6¼ inches; the outside measurement 5x7¼ inches, making a neat pocket volume.

The fifteen volumes contain 5,200 pages, and average about 350 pages each.

The binding is wire stretching of the best quality, and a far superior to that of 50-cent books. If they were sold for $1.00 each, this work could not be better done. The covers are paper, of neat design.

There is nothing common about these books. The very cheapest of the cheap library editions costs five times the price and cannot be compared with this.

No one who sees them can credit the statement that they cost only $1.00, or understand how they can be sold at that price.

They will be delivered

The Home Coming of Wiltwyck Hose Company—What a Doctor Says—An Intelligent Horse—Republican Caucuses Will be Held This Evening—Some Deductions, Etc.

As an exercise for developing the chest and strengthening the lungs, great merit is claimed for the following, which is included among the movements of recent systems of physical culture, and is also advocated by leading vocal instructors:

Standing as erect as possible, with shoulders thrown back and chest forward, the arms hanging close to the body, the head up, with lips firmly closed, inhalation is to be taken as slowly as may be; at the same time the extended arms are to be gradually raised, the back of the hands upward until they closely approach each other above the head. The movement should be so regulated that the arms will be extended directly over the head at the moment the lungs are completely filled. This position should be maintained from five to 30 seconds before the reverse process is begun. As the arms are gradually lowered the breath is exhaled slowly, so that the lungs shall be as nearly freed from breath as possible at the time the arms again reach the first position at the side. By these movements the greatest expansion possible is reached, for upon inspiration the weight of the shoulders and pectoral muscles are lifted, allowing the thorax to expand fully, while upon exhalation, in lowering the arms, we utilize the additional force of the pressure upon the upper thorax to render expiration as complete as possible. These deep respirations should be repeated five or six times, and the exercise gone through with several times a day. It is hardly necessary to remark that the clothing must in no way interfere with the exercise. In some cases this exercise is more advantageous when taken lying flat on the back instead of standing. In this position the inspiratory muscles become rapidly strengthened by opposing the additional pressure exerted by the abdominal organs against the expanding lungs. And, on the other hand, expiration is more perfect and full on account of the pressure of these organs.

The members of Wiltwyck Hose Company were so well entertained by Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Middletown, yesterday, that they did not arrive at the Union Depot here until 12:35 o'clock this morning. They were greeted with cheers by Excelsiors and Kingstons and a number of enthusiastic friends. Line was formed and with lighted torches the Wiltwycks were escorted to their engine-house on Fair-street to the music of two brass bands. The parade was finished at 2 o'clock. The Wiltwycks, though tired with their jaunt, marched in good time and step.

A Doctor says: "I think the trouble with people in this country is that they overeat. They don't eat so often as the Frenchman or the Englishman, but when they do eat they usually partake of a large variety of food, and eat it as hurriedly as they possibly can, in order that they may be kept from their business for as little time as possible. In this way they overeat. If they haven't time to sit down and eat an elaborate dinner slowly and carefully, then the best thing they can do is to eat a small, plain meal."

A resident, who is made up somewhat after Mrs. Malaprop's own heart, held a small audience here spell-bound this morning while he related a narrow escape from death which he experienced "once upon a time." "Yes," said he excitedly, "I slipped on a banana skin that lay on the top step of a quarter-of-a-mile stair-case, and I never let up till I reached the bottom, where I lit on a sharp knife. I cut the artillery of my right arm and I lost three quarts of blood before the doctor got there."

William U. Mason is the owner of an intelligent horse. When its name is called it will come and put its head in its owner's store-door. One night recently it slipped its halter and went to a portion of the barn where there was a box and two bags of oats. The equine lifted the box lid and ate its fill of grain, and then carried the bags of oats to its stall, where they were found in the morning.

In the Ulster Surrogate's Court the will of Patrick O'Neil, of Hurley, has been admitted to probate. The witnesses were D. J. France and J. E. O'Neil. The will was dated March 12, 1889. In the matter of the judicial settlement of Stephen F. VanValkenbergh, Administrator of Maneten Sax, of Saugerties, the account was rendered and a decree entered.

"Undertakers as a rule," said a citizen, who is in the business, this forenoon, "give a great deal of credit to poor folks and yet they seldom lose anything. Many of this class believe in the superstition in substance that if the funeral expenses of a person are not paid within a specified time that there will be another death in the family."

It is said that the work of improving streets will be stopped in November. Uptown streets in which sewer pipes have been laid are in bad condition. If those streets remain in that condition during the winter people who drive over them will be subjected to inconvenience.

A vein of quicksand 14 feet in depth has been struck by workmen laying the main pipe for the First Ward sewers. As a precaution the sides of the trench dug are planked to prevent the sand and earth from caving in.

THE DEMISE OF ANDREW M'MULLEN.

He Passed Away at About 6 O'clock this Morning, Aged 54 Years.

Andrew McMullen, who was stricken with paralysis on Monday, died at his home in Sleightburg at about 6 o'clock this morning, aged 54 years. Mr. McMullen was born in Ireland. He came to this country when a young man and settled in the then Village of Rondout. He developed into a shrewd business man. He formed a partnership with the late Morgan Everson in the boat-building business. Their yard was situated near where the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's yard now is. In 1881 he located a yard in Sleightburgh, and introduced the marine railway system of hauling out large vessels there. He built many boats, among them being the propeller Hewitt Boice. In early life Mr. McMullen married Catharine Watson. The issue of this union was 11 children, seven of whom are living. He was a member of the Wurts-Street Presbyterian Church and Rondout Lodge, No. 343, Free and Accepted Masons. He was an exemplary citizen. Mr. McMullan was a Republican. He was elected Alderman from the Seventh Ward in 1878 and 1880. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoen at the Presbyterian Church. Rondout Lodge of Free Masons will attend. The interment will be in Montrepose Cemetery.

TIDINGS IN THE CHURCH PORCH.

Items Concerning Pastors, Peoples and Churches Here and in This Vicinity.

At a meeting of members of the congregation of St. John's Church, held at the Rectory on Green-street last night, a Parish Guild was organized. The following officers were elected:

John A. Heiser.....Vice-President
Mrs. F. J. R. Clark.....Secretary
Mrs. E. Winter.....Treasurer

D. B. Abbey, of the Wurts Street Presbyterian Church, at the meeting of the North River Presbytery at Salt Point, was appointed a delegate to attend the Synod—an important body—which will be convened in Poughkeepsie next week.

The annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the Second District of New York State will be held at Middletown on October 18, 19 and 20. This City will be represented.

The Rev. Hiram Lamont, of Newburgh, an uncle of the Rev. Thomas Lamont, made an address at the prayer meeting in the Wurts-Street M. E. Church last evening.

A large Episcopal Church will soon be erected at Newburgh.

THE SHIPPING NEWS IN THIS VICINITY.

Outgoing and Incoming Tows—Arrivals at Tidewater, Etc.

The boat Little Jennie, loaded with bluestone, sunk in the Hudson River off West Point to day while en route to New-York City in tow of the propeller J. C. Hartt and steamboat Austin. It is believed the boat sprung a leak. The Captain, J. McCool, and deck-hand, were taken aboard another boat in the tow. The Little Jennie had been chartered for the trip by J. Osterhoudt. It left here last night.

There were reported at the Rondout Department of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company to-day the following vessels for cargoes of coal: Four Buffalo boats, 500 tons; barges Palo Alto, 265; J. Hillis, 300; Charles Trott, 425; Bertha Bornt, 155; N. E. T. Company, No. 7, 400; sloop Lincoln, 60; schooner Ira Laffanier, 300.

The steamboats McDonald and Oswego, with a tow of 30 vessels, arrived at this port this forenoon. In the tow were the schooners Meyer and Muller, Mabel Hall, Stormy Petrel, Peter C. Schultz and Clarence Miller.

The barge Trott, which is being loaded with coal at the "Island Dock," is supplied with machinery that unloads a cargo of coal quickly.

The steamboat M. Martin, while lying at Coeymans on Wednesday was run into by the steamer "General." The damage was slight.

One of the prettiest steam yachts on the Hudson River is the Marguerite, owned by Lewis H. Livingston, of Rhinebeck.

There arrived at tidewater at Eddyville yesterday 27 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 3,600 tons of coal.

The last trip of the Mary Powell of the season will be made on October 19.

NEW CASES OF DIPHTHERIA REPORTED.

Two Uptown and One Downtown—The Patients are Children.

This forenoon Dr. A. H. Mambert reported a new case of diphtheria in the family of Henry Butler on Post-street. The Health authorities have been notified of two cases Uptown. Both are children—one in the family of Henry W. Otis, on Albany-avenue, and the other in the family of M. Cashin, on Cedar-street. Sanitary Inspector TenBroeck has quarantined the two houses.

This forenoon the Sanitary Inspector visited the premises of six different persons against whom complaints had been made.

Thomas Carman, a son of Isaac Carman, who has been ill with diphtheria, is in a critical condition. Croup has set in.

Affairs of Local Railroads.

Forty tons of silk were hauled over the New-York, Ontario & Western Railroad the other day from Japan to the Metropolis. It came via Vancouver's Island.

AN OLD HORSEMAN'S STORY.

RECALLING RACES IN ULSTER COUNTY IN DAYS GONE BY,

When the Nags Were Started to Win Every Time—The Course From the Site of the Albany-Avenue Railroad Bridge to Henry Legg's Place—A Lesson, Etc.

"An old-time horseman said to a reporter of THE FREEMAN to-day: "Fashions change with horses. I remember the time when pacing horses were so out of favor that if a person with a fast pacer passed a trotter on the road the owner would say: 'O, that's only a pacer. Of course I am not expected to beat a running horse,' etc. One reason the pacer received so little consideration was because it was the general understanding that pacing horses lacked 'bottom,' and that however fast they might go for a quarter or a half mile they were not capable of sustaining a steady road pace for a long distance. That this was an erroneous notion was proved by several fast pacers in Ulster County, one of which was owned by John J. Hornbeck. It showed wonderful gamy qualities and 'bottom' that withstood five heats in hard-contested races."

"At the present time pacers are fashionable. And why should they not be favorites? A pacing gait is a pleasant one for a horse either when driven before a light wagon or when used as a saddle horse. The animal is much easier to guide."

"Several fast pacing horses were owned in Ulster County 40 years ago. Little was then known about trotters. It was the pacer or runner for speed. There was a black gelding, James K. Polk, that could pace in 2:26, owned here; and Phœbe Jane, a fast mare, that had a record almost equal to the other. The last named horse was owned by a man in Saugerties. We used to have interesting races. The race-course was the straight road from where the Albany-Avenue Railroad Bridge now is to Henry Legg's place. The road was somewhat sandy, but it made a fair mile course. The starting point was at Henry Legg's, and the finish at the bridge at Sharpe's Burying Ground. I have seen crowds of people line this roadway as far as TenBroeck's. They showed great interest, and when the horses came down side by side the excitement was greater than is known at races now-a-days."

"But when we had horse races it meant the best horse to win. One of the famous track horses was the Pinder pony. I drove it once in a race with James K. Polk. The two horses had paced a match race. The driver of Polk crowded the driver of Pinder, so he could not win. You see he took the advantage of him, knowing that he was timid about knocking spokes out of his sulkey. I saw the whole affair and it made me mad. Money was put up for another race, and I got behind the Pinder pony. I said to the driver: 'I want you to understand that the best horse wins the race. If you crowd me you must take the consequences.' The first heat he found that I could out-foot him, so he pulled across the track. Instead of slowing up, I drove straight away. There was a crash and the splinters flew. He was glad to sheer off, for he was a coward at heart. The next heat he said: 'So you mean it, eh!' 'Yes, I mean it,' I answered, 'and you must take the consequences.' He didn't dare play any more tricks, and I won the two remaining heats. I have forgotten the time made, but it was a fast race—inside the thirties, I think."

"Oh, we had great fun horse-racing those days. There was no pool-selling, but large amounts of money changed hands."

A PLEA IN BEHALF OF GOOD MANNERS.

Do the Public Schools Inculcate all They Could or Should?

The following has been received from Wilbur L. Hale, of this City: "During the present generation there have been great advances made in the opportunities for education. Schools have been established in all sections and communities, and the very best of talent engaged as teachers, and all facilities necessary to learning provided without measure or stint. As a rule scholars have responded fairly well to the opportunities presented, still in many respects they are far from what they should be, one of the greatest deficiencies apparent being in the simple matter of good manners; and assuming that our schools are founded and conducted with the idea of fitting children for useful and successful lives the lack of manners is a very serious objection. With a dozen young people making application for a position, the best mannered is invariably chosen, even though he or she may stand somewhat lower in their studies, or in the per cent. of examination. Well-mannered salesmen or saleswomen are worth more to their employers, because the public learns very quickly the desk or counter at which they will secure the best treatment, and invariably gravitate to that spot. Good-mannered men make their way in politics; and in the professions we invariably call in the most mannerly and pleasant physician or lawyer, even though we may be compelled to admit they are not quite so smart or able as their unmannerly competitors. In clergymen we always expect and look for mannerly treatment, though—save the mark, we sometimes fail to find it, yet the serious, solemn duties we at times require of them are always performed the better—certainly the most pleasantly to us when done in a quiet, mannerly way. We imagine little or no objection can be found in these premises, and, assuming the facts are true, they show clearly that the child who is not instructed in manners is being deprived of one of the most important parts of an education. It is unfortunately true that the parents of some children need education before they can impart it, and to such a school education on those points should be doubly acceptable. It may be—it certainly is claimed by some—that education is a destroyer of reverence. If it be so, it is time—high time—that we get back to some of our old landmarks as speedily as possible. There are a few old customs better than the new, and courtesy is one of them."

The "Old Fashioned Way."

The trial of "Father" Boyle, a disgraced Catholic priest, who is charged with feloniously assaulting a woman, will occur this week at Raleigh. In any large Northern city such a trial would be reported at length in the daily papers, and all the details would be given in full. The North Carolina papers, however, notify their readers in advance that they will devote very little space to the case. They appeal to the judge to exclude from the court room minors and all persons who have no valid reason for being present, and urge the public not to purchase the pamphlet report of the trial, which some enterprising speculator proposes to publish. Now, our Northern contemporaries will laugh at all this, and pronounce it prudish and old-fashioned. It is all right. If it is old-fashioned to insist that the press shall not pander to depraved and licentious tastes, then it is to be hoped that the South will always remain old-fashioned.—Atlanta Constitution.

The "old fashioned" way is the right way, and the number of newspaper proprietors who so hold is increasing daily.

Concerning Friendly Societies.

The degree of Mark Master will be conferred in Mt. Horeb Chapter, R. A. M., on Wednesday evening, October 16.

On Saturday, October 19, Odd Fellows will hold appropriate memorial exercises in honor of deceased members.

A meeting of Kingston Lodge, No. 413, I. O. O. F., will be held this evening.

Journalistic.

The souvenir edition of the Poughkeepsie Eagle has been received. It gives in an attractive form illustrations and descriptions of objects of interest and business enterprises of Poughkeepsie. It is a neat specimen of the art of printing, and from many points of view is a credit to Platt & Platt.

Times Change.

[From the Utica Observer.]

Within the past few years there has been a wonderful growth of manufacturing in many sections of the South, and as this continues it may be that Southern men will become more and more firmly opposed to any revision of the tariff on free-trade lines.

LOW RATE TRIP TO NEW-YORK CITY.

The West Shore Railroad has arranged for a special low rate excursion to the Metropolis from Troy, Albany and points on its Hudson River division, on Friday, October 18. The round trip rate will be $2.25. Special train will leave Kingston at 11:55 A. M. Tickets will be good returning by regular trains until Monday, October 21. This will be a splendid opportunity to visit the Metropolis, either for business or pleasure, as the rate is low, and a liberal return limit has been made on the tickets. Tickets, time tables, and full information can be procured of Ticket Agents West Shore Railroad.

EXCURSION TO NEW-YORK OCTOBER 18TH.

The Wallkill Valley Railroad will sell excursion tickets to New-York for the morning train leaving Campbell Hall at 8:50 on October 18th, from all stations on the line, at the rate of $2.50 each for the round trip.

Excursion tickets will be good going only on this train, and will be good returning by all regular trains until October 21st.

This will afford a splendid opportunity for those desiring to visit the Metropolis at little expense. There is no season of the year as pleasant as this in which to see New-York and its many attractions.

MARY POWELL'S CHANGE OF TIME.

On and after Thursday, September 19, 1889, steamer Mary Powell will leave Rondout at 6 A. M. Returning will leave Vestry-street, 3:15 P. M.; Twenty-Second-street, 3:30 P. M. On Saturdays will leave one hour earlier. Last trip of the season, Saturday, October 19.

CITY ORDINANCE—AN ORDINANCE FOR THE curbing, guttering and flagging of the sidewalks of a portion of Tompkins-street.

Passed October 4th, 1889.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

Resolved, That the sidewalks of that portion of Tompkins-street between Union-street and Yeomans-street, in said city, shall be constructed in the manner following: The walks shall be curbed with curbstones not less than twenty inches in depth and of the usual thickness, and the gutters shall be laid with gutter stones not less than twelve inches in width, and of the usual thickness; and the sidewalk shall be flagged with flagging stones not less than four feet in width and of the usual thickness.

Resolved, That the improvements required by this ordinance shall be made and completed by the 25th day of November next, and if the same be not made or completed within the time above specified by the owners or occupants of the lands so to be improved, as aforesaid, the work shall be done by the Common Council at the expense of the delinquent owners or occupants respectively.

This ordinance shall be published pursuant to the City Charter, and a copy thereof shall be served on each of said owners or occupants, as a notice to said owners or occupants, this section being intended to be such notice.

I hereby approve the foregoing ordinance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand this 7th day of October, 1889.

JOHN NEWKIRK, Mayor.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, }
COUNTY OF ULSTER, } ss.
CITY OF KINGSTON. }

I, Aug. Schepmoes, City Clerk, of the City of Kingston, do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing ordinance with the original on file and on record in the City Clerk's office, and that the same is a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole of said original.

AUGUSTUS SCHEPMOES, City Clerk.

CITY ORDINANCE—AN ORDINANCE TO CONstruct a sewer in Holmes-street, between Hone street and Union-avenue.

Passed September 2 th, 1889.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

Resolved, That a sewer be constructed through Holmes-street, from Hone-street to Union-avenue, to connect with the sewer at Union-avenue and at Wurts-street, such sewer to be constructed of vitrified salt glazed sewer pipe, having an internal diameter or not more than ten inches.

Resolved, That such sewer and the necessary inlets, man holes and connections be constructed under the supervision of the Committee on Sewers, the City Engineer and the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers and City Property, and that twenty-five per cent. of the cost thereof be paid by a general tax upon the city, and the remaining seventy-five per cent of such cost and expense shall be defrayed by a special assessment upon such portions of the real estate in said city as the Assessors thereof shall deem more immediately benefited by such improvement.

I hereby approve the foregoing ordinance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand this 7th day of October, 1889.

JOHN NEWKIRK, Mayor.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, }

Sold at this price only to Subscribers of The Freeman.

This edition is carefully printed, on good paper, from new plates, in leaded nonpareil type. In form it is a reproduction of the famous "Plum Pudding" edition that sold for $50.00.

The size of the page of type is 4x6½ inches; the outside measurement 5x7½ inches, making a neat pocket volume.

The fifteen volumes contain 5,200 pages, and average about 350 pages each.

The binding is wire stretching of the best quality, and a far superior to that of 50-cent books. If they were sold for $1.00 each, this work could not be better done. The covers are paper, of neat design.

There is nothing common about these books. The very cheapest of the cheap library editions costs five times the price and cannot be compared with this.

No one who sees them can credit the statement that they cost only $1.00, or understand how they can be sold at that price.

They will be delivered
Free of all Expense
to all city subscribers, and mailed free direct from publishers to out-of-town subscribers.

There will be an interval of about two weeks after receipt of money and delivery.

Any subscriber may have as many sets as he may want at
